INDICTMENTS BY THE GRAND JURY

Thirteen Against Railway Officials and Others for Giving and Taking Rebates.

CONTAIN FORTY-FIVE COUNTS

Accused Given Till December 4th to Withdraw Pleas or Make Motion —Bail of $5,000 is Furnished by Each

New York, Nov. 16.—Thirteen indictments were returned this afternoon by the Federal grand jury, which has been investigating charges of rebating against several railway freight officials and members of firms in this city, and Chicago. All of the indictments are similar except as to the details of the particular transaction and contain in all forty-five counts. The alleged rebating was on shipments of merchandise between this city and Chicago.

Six of the indictments are against Robert B. Ways, foreign freight agent ot the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, for giving rebates to the following parties:

Bernard, Judae & Co.; Gallagher & Asher; Oscar F. Kosche, trading as Charles D. Stone & Company; American Shipping Company; International Forwarding Company, all of Chicago; and Peter C. Kuyper, trading as P. C. Kuyper & Company, of New York.

Other indictments are against Thomas N. Jarvis, vice president, and Clarence A. Blood, freight traffic manager of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, for giving rebates to George W. Sheldon & Company, of New York and Chicago.

Other indictments are against the following parties for receiving rebates from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company:

Jules E. Bernard, of Bernard, Judae & Company, and Maurice Ascher, of Callagher & Ascher, of New York. Oscar E. Kosche, trading as Charles D. Stone & Company; Albert E. Graser, president American Shipping Company, and August Bountoux, president International Forwarding Company.

Those indicted for receiving rebates from the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company are:

George W. Sheldon and Henry W. Ackhoff, president and vice president of George W. Sheldon & Company.

Tentative pleas of not guilty were entered to the indictments by Vice President Jarvis and Freight Traffic Manager Blood, of the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Judge Martin gave them until December 4th to withdraw their pleas or make any motion for their defense that they may deem necessary. Bail is $5,000 each, furnished by each defendant.

Assistant District Attorney Crim, in a statement to the court, asserted that while the amounts mentioned in the different counts seemed small this was so because they concerned but single car shipments. The total amounts involved in the alleged rebating, he added, would approximate ten per cent. of the total freight earnings of the Lehigh Valley and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Companies.

Result of Investigation

Washington, Nov. 16.—The indictments returned by the Federal grand jury in New York today were the result of an investgation made by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, during the past several months, through its division of inquiry. The alleged violations of the law included the payment by railroad officials of rebates on import shipments through the port of New York, and their acceptance by shippers. The alleged rebates were paid under the guise of commissions.

The indictments, according to the Inter-State Commerce Commission, rest upon the doctrine that refunds from rates paid to persons controlling routing of shipments are unlawful rebates, even though the persons receiving the refunds are not in the owners of the shipments.

NEED OF FARM LABOR.

College Students Afford Best Help on the Farm.

Washington, Nov. 16.—There is a crying need for labor on the farms of the United States, offering opportunity to the immigrant and the native unemployed. This condition was emphasized by State immigration officials here today at a joint conference with the Federal immigration authorities called for the purpose of finding a means of co-operation between the government forces for the distribution of immigrants, settlers and the unemployed to the localities where they are needed.

Practically every State in the Union was represented. A number of resolutions were offered and a committee appointed to evolve a practical method by which the division of information of the United States Immigration Service and the State immigration officers may work in harmony.

Charles Harris, manager of the Free Employment Bureau, of Kansas, declared that college students afforded the best help on the farms. Four-fifths of the farms of Ohio are in need of labor, according to A. P. Sandles, secretary of agriculture of that State.

FIGHTING ON CRIMINAL CLAUSE

Attorneys for Packers Making Strong Effort—Both Sides Claimed Advantage on Arguments Yesterday—Resumed Today

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Pitting a question of fact against a question of law, and advocating the cause of public welfare against an allegation of selfish, pecuniary motives, lawyers for the indicted Chicago packers today fought government counsel in an effort to obtain a final ruling on the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust act from the United States Supreme Court, before the packers shall go to trial.

The court room of United States Circuit Court Judge C. C. Kohlsaat was the battleground for the clashing forces of legal wit and experience When the court day ended, both sides claimed the advantage. The arguments will be resumed tomorrow morning.

The question advanced by counsel for the packers was to the effect that the defendants really had been under restraint for one hour last Monday, after they had been surrendered by their bondsmen and were, therefore, subject to the operation of the habeas corpus law. Against this lawyers for the government declared that as a question of law the packers had no right to use the habeas corpus writ because their method of surrender was illegal and therefore, legally, they were not under restraint.

After they had threshed these knotty points, the lawyers proceeded to portray two widely different purposes which they said actuated the packers in making the petition for the writ of habeas corpus.

Levy Mayer, of counsel for the indicted men, declared that the welfare of business in all lines, the country over demanded the earliest possible ruling from the United States Supreme Court upon the validity of the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust act.

"Not since the free silver agitation," said Attorney Mayer, "has the business of the country suffered to such a degree from any one thing as it has from the uncertainty surrounding construction of the criminal clause of the Sherman act."

James Sheehan, of special counsel for the government, said the purpose behind the petition of the packers was to avoid, if possible, the expenses of trial under the constitutionality of the criminal section of the Sherman act finally had been determined.

OPPOSES $50,000 APPROPRIATION

President Gompers Opposes This Amount in Support of McNamaras

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 16.—That President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, is opposed to the Federation appropriating $50,000 for the McNamara defense, was indicated at the convention of the organization today. It is understood Mr. Gompers favors aiding the brothers charged with the Los Angeles Times disaster but thinks money to be used to that end should be raised by private subscription.

President Gompers discussed the McNamara case in his annual report on which a committee now is working. Today Delegate A. J. Gallagherm, of California, announced he had a resolution bearing on the McNamara case but did not wish to introduce it until the committee had reported on the president's address fearing it might cause friction in the convention Gallagherm asked the chair if his resolution could be introduced if the committee report was not satisfactory to him.

"It cannot," restorted Mr. Gompers.

Later another delegate asked the chair if a delegate could not move to substitute a resolution for a portion of a committee report. Mr. Gompers replied in the affirmative.

Before the convention is over Mr. Gompers and four other labor leaders who are heads of various crafts may be asked to sever their connection with the National Civic Federation, which, according to a resolution offered today by the United Mine Workers, "is largely composed and financed by employers of labor, many of whom are the most bitter enemies of organized labor."

The resolution requests that all Federation officers connected with the Civic Federation resign. Mr. Gompers and the associates mentioned are members of the executive committee of the Federation. It is understood that the Western Federation of Miners and several State delegations will support the resolution.

The resolution recites that the conflict between the employing and working classes is constantly becoming more intense and that the former is constantly becoming more brutal in their treatment of the workers, as is evidenced by the desperate attempts to throttle organized labor by use of the injunction, the black-list and the more recent method of kidnapping the officers of labor organizations.

WILL MEET IN CHARLOTTE.

Episcopal Missionary Council Will Hold Next Meeting There.

Knoxville, Tenn., November 16. — The missionary council Sewanee, of the Episcopal Church, closed its annual session here tonight after electing Charlotte, N. C., as the next place of meeting, and electing the following officers:

President, Bishop Strange, of North Carolina; secretary, Rev. Meir P. Logan, D. D., Nashville; treasurer, T. H. Nickerson, Athens, Ga.

The council discussed the missionary work of the Church, devoting its main time to the mountain whites of the Appalachian district and the mill workers of the Southeastern States.

NEW LEGISLATION TO CONTROL TRUSTS

Senate Committee Receives First Concrete Suggestions to Solve Trust Problem.

WITHOUT HAMPERING BUSINESS

Organization of Separate Federal Commissions Suggested—Method of Trust Regulation Through Graduated Tax.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The Senate committee on interstate commerce, which is inquiring into the trust problem, received today the first concrete suggestions for new legislation designed to control gigantic combinations without hampering business organizations.

Taylor Vincent, of Huntington, W. Va., suggested the organization of separate Federal commissions to deal with the coal, iron and steel, lumber, and oil industries, with power to authorize small combinations and agreements for selling the products or operating the properties.

A method of trust regulation through a graduated tax on the capital stock of corporations was suggested by W. S. Dwinnel, an attorney from Minneapolis. Mr. Dwinnel said such a tax increasing in proportion to the amount of capital, would prevent monopoly and stimulate competition from smaller concerns that would not be hampered by the heavy tax.

The Senate committee pursued a course of questioning that indicated a desire to find whether any of the men who appeared today favored government control of prices. Mr. Vincent said his scheme for a Federal coal mine commission did not contemplate a control of prices. Natural competition would be stimulated, he said, if the small coal mine operators were permitted to make reasonable combinations in order to reduce expenses and market their coal more cheaply.

Mr. Dwinnel, who proposed the Federal tax on capital stock declared the big combinations would not be able to pass this tax on to the consumer, because an increase in price would bring into operation at once many small concerns that would not be embarrassed by the big tax.

"If every prayer of the government against the United States Steel Corporation is granted," said Mr. Dwinnel, "I do not anticipate that the price of steel rails will decline from $28 a ton, even though it cost but $14 a ton to make them, as has been publicly stated. An adequate tax on big capital stocks would force moderate prices, or invite outside competition."

VIRGINIA CONFERENCE.

Decides That Randolph-Macon School Remain Denominational.

Salisbury, Md., Nov. 16.—At today's session of the annual convention of the Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, it was decided that the Randolph-Macon schools should remain denominational instead of being placed under the Carnegie fund. Rev. James Cannon, chairman of the special committee, appointed at the last session of the conference, submitted a proposition decided on at a joint meeting of his committee with a similar committee from the Baltimore conference and Randolph-Macon board of trustees. This proposition was to the effect that whenever a vacancy occurred in the board of trustees, no member should be appointed without his appointment being confirmed by some governing body of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. This action was unanimously adopted by the conference. After a vote was taken Bishop Kilgo, the presiding officer, said:

"Education is not a sister of religion, but a child. We want religion in our schools, and education in our churches. By your action you have taken control of one of the oldest and most historical educational institutions in the United States." Annual memorial services were held tonight.

JEWELS STOLEN WORTH $2,950

Man Who Had Been Guest of Home Is Accused

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 16.—Wilfred Stuart Sheldon Dickason, said to be a member of an old English family and arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing jewels valued at $2,950 from Mrs. Olga Von Wedelstadt Haskell, of this city, was arraigned today in police court and asked for a preliminary examination. The case will be heard tomorrow. Bond was placed at $5,000 which has not been furnished.

George Haskell, son of Mrs. Haskell, who also was arrested yesterday on complaint of his mother and held at the police station, last night was given a 45-day workhouse sentence but was released on probation for one year.

According to the complaint made by Mrs. Haskell, the jewels disappeared shortly after Dickason had seen her hiding them. Dickason, who has been a guest in the Haskell home for about five weeks and who has been a leader in Minneapolis society since coming here several months ago, declares that he knows nothing of the jewels.

The temperature at The Grand theatre is regulated according to the weather. Always comfortable. **

ANNUAL CONVENTION CLOSES

Good Government Advocates Bring Sessions to Close Yesterday—Executive Council to Name Next Meeting Place

Richmond, Va., Nov. 16.—With the conclusion of discussions on franchises, education, police and liquor problems, the 17th annual meeting of the National Municipal League and 19th National Conference for City Good Government came to a close today. Los Angeles invited the convention to meet there next year, but the meeting place was left to the executive council to name.

F. S. Spence, a municipal official of Toronto, Canada, told the delegates that as long as corporations operated public utilities under the franchise system there never would be satisfactory service.

Plans for an exhaustive study of local option and all other questions allied with the liquor problem, were recommended in the report of the committee on liquor, presented by Camillus G. Kidder, of Orange, N. J. A determination of the safest hands in which to lodge the issuance of licenses was deemed to be of prime importance.

"Under a strong and good licensing authority almost any statute is workable," according to the report.

The Federal government, through the operation of some of its statutes, was pictured as the friend of the blind tiger and the liquor interests as against prohibition, by William H. Thomas, of Montgomery, Ala., in an address on "The Prohibition Movement in the South."

The practical effect of the United States revenue statutes, inter-State commerce laws, and the use of the mails, he declared, "is to make the government the friend and co-adjutor of the blind tiger, the brewer and the distiller in defeating the will of the people by granting Federal licenses to whomsoever will pay, to go into any prohibition State and violate the law. If the government refused such licenses in prohibition territory, a large percent. of the illicit liquor selling could be substantially abolished."

BEING RE-ORGANIZED

Revenue Cutter Fleet Being Completely Re-organized

Washington, Nov. 16.—The revenue cutter fleet is being completely reorganized along lines somewhat similar to the naval establishment. The vessels will be assembled into five divisions—two on the Pacific and three on the Atlantic coast—each in command of a senior captain of the service. Under the old system each revenue cutter was a unit in itself reporting directly to the captain-commandant at Washington.

"The New York division," with senior Captain Howard Emery commanding, was organized today with the following vessels:

Seneca, Mohawk, Manhattan, Calumet, Hudson and Guide. The headquarters of the two other Atlantic divisions will be Boston and Charleston, but plans for their establishment have not been completed.

The North Pacific division in charge of Senior Captain F. M. Dunwoody, with headquarters at Port Townsend. Washington, will be composed of the cutters, Manning, Tacoma, Snowmish, Arcada, Guard, Scout and Rush.

The South Pacific division, under Senior Captain John F. Wild, at San Francisco, Cal., will consist of the McCullough, Bear, Golden Gate and Hartley. The Treasury Department expects the new scheme to promote efficiency and economy.

OUTLINES.

In a significant article in the current number of The Outlook, ex-President Roosevelt advocates the control of trusts by the government through an administrative bureau as control is exercised over railroads by the Inter-state Commerce Commission——The annual meeting of the National Municipal League and the National Conference for City Good Government, in joint sessions at Richmond, came to a close yesterday. The next place of meeting was not named, this being left to the executive council.——Attorneys for the indicted Chicago meat packers are making a strong fight against government counsel in an effort to obtain a final ruling on the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust act from the Supreme Court. PREMIER'S NEW CABINET NAMED

But it Is Expected That Several Will Decline to Serve.

SOME CURIOUS APPOINTMENTS

Representatives of All Parties Included in Cabinet's Personnel—Beginning of Foreign Interference in Affairs.

Peking, Nov. 16.—Premier Yuan Shi Kai's new cabinet was named in an imperial edict today, but it is questionable whether it will stand. One of the members expressed amazement at his appointment. It is believed that few of the new ministers have been consulted and it is expected that several will decline to serve.

The cabinet comprises curious appointments. Liang Chi-Chiao, appointed vice president of the board of justice, is the great Chinese reformer who was exiled by the late Empress Dowager, at Yuan Shi Kai's suggestion. Chang Chien, appointed president of the board of agriculture and commerce, is a member of the new government of Kiang Su. He signed with Wu Ting Fang the demand for the throne's abdication, which the reformers sought to have delivered to the Prince Regent through the American legation. Several other members of the new cabinet are known to be strong in sympathy with the revolution movement.

A composition of the constitutional cabinet is as follows: Premier, Yuan Shi Kai; board of foreign affairs, Liang Tun Yen, president, Hu Wei To, vice president; Biard of Finance, Yen Shi-Si, president, Chen Chin-Tao, vice president; Board of Communications, Yang Shih-Chi, president, Liang Ju-Hao, vice president; Board of War, Nang Shih-Cheng, president, Tien Wen-Tieh, vice president; Board of Justice, Shen Chi-Pen, president, Liang Chi-Chiao, vice president; Board of Agriculture and Commerce, Chang Chien, president, Hsi-Yen, vice president; Board of Navy, Admiral Sah Chen-Ping, president, Tan Hsueh-Heng, vice president; Board of Instruction, Tang Ching-Chung, president Yang-To, vice president; Board of Colonies, Sa Chow, president, Yung Hsun, vice president; Board of Interior, Chao Ping-Chun, president, Wu Chen, vice president.

The organization of the cabinet was evidently an attempt to include in its personnel representatives of all parties. The question arises whether Yuan Shi Kai was unable to forsee his inability to operate such a cabinet if it could be actually formed. Opinion is divided with respect to the object Yuan Shi Kai has in view. Some think he has lost his astuteness and intuition, while others hold that he is playing a deep game. His real object may be to convince the throne that a capable cabinet cannot be formed, but he gives the impression to visitors, both Chinese and foreigners, that he is determined to defeat the rebels.

The foreign diplomatic representatives have under discussion the appointment of a committee to disburse the maritime customs, which are being reserved by the inspector general, Francis Arthur Aglen, for payment of loans and indemnities. This seems to be the beginning of foreign interference in the financial affairs of China.

Nanking, Nov. 16.—Throughout the day Gen. Chang, commander of the Imperialists, was preparing to receive the reformers' army, which he confidently asserts will meet its waterloo before Nanking. Imperialist troops moved out of the city, and were distributed to strategic points to check the advance of the revolutionaries from Chinkiang. The defenses at Pukow are formidable.

Chinkian, Nov. 16.—Revolutionaries continue to come into this city in thousands. The scene is marvelous in its confusion. The troops are disorganized but not disorderly. The forward movement of the revolutionaries has not yet begun, but large numbers have been taken aboard the gunboats and transports which are proceeding up the river in the direction of Nanking. It is presumed that a flank movement is planned to hold Gen. Chang's troops in Nanking or to cut them off if they try to advance.

Much anxiety is felt concerning the whereabouts of missionaries and railroad employes who are cut off north of Pukow.

It is hoped that they have escaped by way of the grand canal, but a rescue party, which was sent out, has been unable to proceed, as the bridges are down.

Dispatch From Hongkong.

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—Attack on Peking in the immediate future is contemplated by the revolutionists according to a cable received today by the Chinese Free Press here. The dispatch came from Hong Kong and said the revolutionary government in Quong Tong province had received from Gen. Li Yuen Heng orders to send reinforcements to Wu Chang, there to concentrate in preparation for the attack on Peking.

London, Nov. 16.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Times says that Nanking is regarded as the key to the situation. If the revolutionaries win further resistence to the realization of their plans seems unlikely, but if General Chang wins scenes of devastation and carnage may be expected,

WOULD TERMINATE MONOPOLY

To Divide American Tobacco Company Into Fourteen Corporations Instead of One—Attorney General's Belief.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Satisfied that the decree entered in the court at New York today providing for the disintegration of the American Tobacco Company into 14 corporations, will terminate a monopoly and substitute actual competition instead, Attorney General Wickersham will not appeal the case to the Supreme Court of the United States. He will accept the Circuit Court's decision, although the government possesses the right to carry the plan of dissolution to the highest tribunal at any time within a year. The government's approval of the plan was made known by the attorney general in an official statement issued today.

The size of some of the corporations into which the company will be separated constitutes no valid objection to the court's decree, in the judgment of the attorney general.

"The public at large will be more apt to benefit," he declared, "from competition by a number of large, solvent, well organized companies in strong hands, than from the general demoralization of business which would ensue were the business to be distributed between a large number of small, weak organizations with insufficient capital to maintain themselves in active competition.

"Some of the representatives of the so-called 'independent retailers' associations' urged the distribution of the business among 70 corporations instead 14. The suggestion might as well have been 50 or 200. For the government to have supported any such contention would have undoubtedly resulted in a receivership and enormous widespread injury to the general business conditions of the country."

Regarding the contention which he said had been advanced that the size of some of the companies was greater than that of any of the existing independents, the attorney general says:

"Nothing in the law requires, or, in the opinion of the attorney general would justify the government in taking the position that to reduce a monopolistic combination to legal size, no one of the distributee concerns should be larger than the largest existing independent concern."

The objections to the dissolutions scheme on the ground that the same body of shareholders would substantially control each of the separated companies are met, the attorney general says, first, by conferring voting rights, which now are vested in the common stock alone, to the preferred stockholders also; and secondly, by the restrictions upon the actions of the respective corporations.

"The attorney general believes" continues the statement, "that this plan with the restrictive provisions embodied in the decree will accomplish a recreation of lawful conditions, and being so convinced, he has opposed the efforts of outsiders to inject themselves into the situation and to delay or prevent the carrying out of the plan."

In the impression that the meaning of the opinion of the court had been clouded by the various discussions of it and was not generally understood, the attorney general embodied in his statement a synopsis of the terms of the decree. He said it contained substantially all of the requests made by the government except the enforced sale and distribution to outsiders of the United States Cigar Stores Company and an authorization to the government at any time within five years to apply to the court for relief based upon a showing that competitive conditions have not actually resulted from the operations of the plan.

Circuit Court Denies Petition.

New York, Nov. 16.—The United States Circuit court denied today the formal petition of the National Cigar Leaf Tobacco Association and the Cigar Manufacturers' Association of America, filed yesterday for leave to intervene in the government's dissolution suit against the American Tobacco Company. The decision, which was not expected by counsel for the so-called independents, furnishes a definite point upon which they may appeal to the Federal Supreme Court.

Felix H. Levy, one of the counsel in charge of the fight against the Circuit Court's approval of the dissolution plan, said, upon learning of the decision:

"We are already taking steps to continue the fight. This does not end the matter by any means."

He declined to say, however, what the next move of the independents would be.

The final decree of the United States Circuit Court embodying the court's approval of the dissolution plan was filed this afternoon. Counsel in the case regard the filing of the decree as a purely formal step which was discounted by handing down the decision a week ago.

SUBMARINES DOCKED.

At Norfolk Navy Yard for Pressure Tests and Reports.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 16.—The submarines Stingaray, Salson, Snapp, Bonito, Grayling, Norwhal and Tarpon were docked at the Norfolk navy yard today for pressure tests and general repairs. They arrived here after the New York naval review. In submitting the submarines to pressure tests all tanks and compartments will be tested with an air pump to find possible leaks and the work is expected to consume about ten days.

The caison target recently fired upon with a Davis torpedo cannon is in drydock with the submarines. This will be fitted out anew for further tests and a new armor plate will be put on.

CONTROL TRUSTS NOT IN THE COURTS

Roosevelt Suggests Administrative Bureau Like Commerce Commission.

STRIKING ARTICLE IN OUTLOOK

Denies That Steel Corporation Fooled Him When He Was in Saddle—The Danger to "Big Business."

New York, Nov. 16.—Recent litigation and legislation to regulate the trusts is discussed and a remedy to meet the present situation is suggested by Theodore Roosevelt, in an editorial entitled "The Trusts, the People and the Square Deal," published today in The Outlook.

"The suit against the Steel Trust by the government," Mr. Roosevelt begins, "has brought vividly before our people the need of reducing to order our chaotic government policy as regards business." He concludes with the following recommendation:

"The National government exercises control over interstate commerce railways, and it can in similar fashion, through an appropriate governmental body, exercise control over all industrial organizations engaged in inter-State commerce. This control should be exercised, not by the courts, but by an administrative bureau or board such as the Bureau of Corporations or the Interstate Commerce Commission; for the courts cannot with advantage permanently perform executive and administrative functions."

Before taking up his general theme Mr. Roosevelt pauses to deny that the representatives of the Steel Corporation misled him while he was President. Referring to the suit against the steel trust, he says:

"One of the grounds for the suit is the acquisition by the Steel Corporation of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company; and it has been alleged, on the authority of the government officials engaged in carrying on the suit, that as regards this transaction, I was misled by the representatives of the Steel Corporation and that the facts were not accurately or truthfully laid before me. This statement is not correct. I believe at the time that the facts in the case were as represented to me on behalf of the Steel Corporation, and my further knowledge has convinced me that this was true. I believed at the time that the representatives of the Steel Corporation told me the truth as to the change that would be worked in the percentage of the business which the proposed acquisition would give the Steel Corporation, and further inquiry has convinced me that they did so. I was not misled. The representatives of the Steel Corporation told me the truth as to what the effect of the action at that time would be, and any statement that I was misled or that the representatives of the Steel Corporation did not thus tell me the truth as to the facts of the case, is itself not in accordance with the truth.

"It has been alleged that the purchase by the Steel Corporation of the property of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company gave the Steel Corporation practically a monopoly of the Southern iron ores—that is, of the iron ores south of the Potomac and the Ohio. My information, which I have every reason to believe, is accurate and not successfully to be challenged, is that, of these Southern iron ores the Steel Corporation has, including the property gained from the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company, less than 20 per cent. —perhaps not over 16 per cent. This is a very much smaller percentage than the percentage it holds of the Lake Superior ores, which, even after the surrender of the Hill lease, will be slightly over 50 per cent. According to my view, therefore, and unless—which I do not believe possible—these figures can be successfully challenged, the acquisition of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company's ores in no way changed the situation as regards making the steel corporation a monopoly. The showing as to the percentage of reduction of all kinds of steel ingots and steel castings in the United States by the Steel Corporation and by all other manufacturers, respectively, makes an even stronger case. It makes the case even stronger than I put it in my testimony before the investigating committee, for I was scrupulously careful to make statements that erred, if at all, against my own position."

Returning to the main subject, Mr. Roosevelt continued:

"To attempt to meet the whole problem not by administrative governmental action, but by a succession of law suits is hopeless from the standpoint of working out a permanently satisfactory solution. Moreover, the results sought to be achieved are achieved only in extremely insufficient and fragmentary measure by breaking up all big corporations, whether they have behaved well or ill, into a number of little corporations which, it is perfectly certain, will be largely and perhaps altogether, under the same control. Such action is harsh and mischievous if the corporation is guilty of nothing except its size; and where, as in the case of the Standard Oil, and especially the tobacco trust, the corporation has been guilty of immoral and anti-social practices, there is need for far more drastic and thorough-going action than any that has been taken under the recent decree of the Supreme Court. In the case of the tobacco trust, for instance, the settlement in the Circuit Court in which the representatives of the government seemed inclined to concur, practically leaves all of the companies still substantially under the control of 29 original defendants. Such a result is lamentable from the standpoint of justice. The decision of the Circuit Court, if allowed to stand, means that the tobacco trust has merely been obliged to change its clothes, that none of the real offenders have received any real punishment.

"Surely, miscarriage of justice is not too strong a term to apply to such a result when considered in connection with what the Supreme Court said of this trust.

"The effort to prohibit all combinations, good or bad, is bound to fail and ought to fail; when made, it merely means that some of the worst combinations are not checked and that honest business is checked. Our purpose should be, not to strangle business as an incident of strangling combinations, but to regulate bid corporations in thorough-going and effective fashion so as to help legitimate business as an incident to thoroughly and completely safeguarding the interests of the people as a whole.

"Few will dispute the fact that the present situation is not satisfactory and cannot be put on a permanently satisfactory basis unless we put an end to the period of groping and declare for a fixed policy, a policy which shall clearly define and punish wrong doing, which shall put a stop to the iniquities done in the name of business, but which shall be strict equity to business. We demand that big business give the people a square deal; in return we must insist that when any one engaged in big business honestly endeavors to do right, he shall himself be given a square deal; and the first, and most elementary, kind of square deal is to give him in advance full information as to just what he can, and what he cannot, legally and properly do.

"Not only should any huge corporation which has gained its position by unfair methods and by interference with the rights of others, by demoralizing and corrupt practices, in short, by sheer baseness and wrong-doing, be broken up, but it should be made the business of some administrative governmental body, by constant supervision to see that it does not come together again, save under such strict control as shall insure the community against all repetition of the bad conduct—and it should never be permitted thus to assemble its parts as long as these parts are under the control of the original offenders, for actual experience has shown that these men are, from the standpoint of the people at large, unfit to be trusted with the power implied in the management of a large corporation. But nothing of importance is gained by breaking up a huge interstate and international industrial organization which has not offended otherwise than by its size, into a number of small concerns without any attempt to regulate the way in which those concerns as a whole shall do business. Nothing is gained by depriving the American nation of good weapons wherewith to fight in the great field of international industrial competition.

"To sum up. It is practically impossible, and, if possible, it would be mischievous and undesirable to try to break up all combinations merely because they are large and successful and to put the business of the country back into the middle of the 18th century conditions of intense and reregulated competition between small and weak business concerns. Such an effort represents not progressiveness, but an unintelligent, though doubtless, well meaning Toryism. Moreover, the effort to administer a law merely by law suits and court decisions is bound to end in signal failure, and meanwhile to be attended with delays and uncertainties, and to put a premium upon legal sharp practice. Such an effort does not adequately punish the guilty, and yet works great harm to the innocent. Moreover, it entirely fails to give the publicity which is one of the best by-products of the system of control by administrative officials, publicity, which is not only good in itself, but furnishes the data for whatever further action may be necessary. We need to formulate immediately and definitely a policy, which in dealing with big corporations that behave themselves and which contain no menace save what is necessarily potential. In any corporation, which is of great size and well managed, shall aim not at their destruction, but at their regulation and supervision, so that the government shall control them in such fashion as amply to safeguard the interests of the whole public, including producers, consumers and wage-workers. This control should, if necessary, be pushed in extreme cases to the point of exercising control over monopoly prices, as rates on railways are now controlled, although this now a power that should be used when it is possible to avoid it. The law should be clear, unambiguous, certain, so that honest men may not find that unwittingly they have violated it. In short, our aim should be, not to destroy, but effectively and in thorough-going fashion to regulate and control, in the public interest, the great instrumentalities of modern business, which it is destructive of the general welfare of the community to destroy and which nevertheless, it is vitally necessary to that general welfare to regulate and control. Competition will remain as a very important factor when once we have destroyed the unfair business methods, the criminal interference with the rights of others, which alone enabled certain swollen combinations to rush out their competitors—and incidentally the 'conservatively' will do well to remember that those unfair and iniquitous methods by great masters of corporation capital have done more to cause popular discontent with the propertied class than all the orations of all the socialist orators in the country put together."

COLORED A. M. E. CONFERENCE

Delegates to General Conference Are Elected—Presiding Elders' Reports—Address of Dr. White —Other Notes

(By Geo. F. King.)

The feature of yesterday's session of the 43rd annual session of the North Carolina Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church was the election of five delegates to the general conference of the Church that meets next May in Kansas City, Mo. There was sufficient ginger in the contest to make the lection somewhat spirited but very harmonious.

Dr. G. D. Carnes, of St. Stephen's church, this city, in which the conference is being held, received the largest number of votes and will lead the delegation. He is popular with the men of the conference and because of his valued service in this community the laity of the Church worked for his election. The other delegates elected are Dr. F. W. Sowell, Rocky Point; Dr. W. H. Capeheart, of Wilmington; Dr. A. Stroud, of Wilmington, and Rev. J. A. Smith, of Rocky Mount.

After the election of delegates a number of prominent ministers and laymen and women were introduced to the conference. In addressing the conference Dr. White, of this city, said that he was glad that the A. M. E. Church through such able men as Bishop Coppin was raising the standards of the ministry and that the young men entering this profession are beginning to appreciate in the right manner that an intelligent preparation is an important requisite to become a factor in spreading the gospel. He laid particular stress upon the fact that the laity is demanding a spiritual, moral, energetic and intelligent ministry and he served notice that the age demands such men and if a man were not qualified he would find himself displaced by a man who could do the required work. Relative to the plans that had made the A. M. E. Church a power for good among the negroes, he exclaimed that he regarded this denomination as having the best financial plans in use by any other negro religious movement in the world. From the tone of his remarks he countenanced the idea that some day that would be an organic union between the A. M. E. and A. M. E. Zion denomination. In introducing Dr. E. H. Hunter, LL., M., pastor of the largest and most influential church in the Virginia conference, the Bishop paid a glowing tribute to the character of the young man who is regarded as a strong contributor to the development of his race. He has the unique distinction of resigning a lucerative government position, which was a lifetime job, to enter the ministry and become an intinerant minister at that. He is a lawyer and a pleasing speaker. He was law examiner in the land department of the government at Washington, and is a native of North Carolina. The prominent personages introduced were: President D. J. Jordan, president of Kittrell College; P. H. Richardson, of Nashville, N. C.; W. C. Arnold, of Wilmington.

There is a number of influential men of the Church from other conferences participating in the deliberation of the body. Dr. R. H. W. Leake, presiding elder of the Durham district; Dr. C. H. King, presiding elder of the Morganton district; Dr. A. J. Wilson, presiding elder of the Raleigh district, and Dr. J. E. Jackson, pastor of St. Joseph A. M. E. church, Durham, are some of the men who are conspicuous because of their activities in various movements in their race.

At the afternoon session of the conference the various presiding elders made their reports. These reports are increasing the lead over last year's work and each report elicited commendatory remarks from the Bishop. He tells the presiding elders from his other conference that the ministers of this conference are setting a pace for the members of the Western North Carolina conference to over-come next week at their conference. At the afternoon session the ministers' characters were placed upon their passage and stood fair. Dr. W. H. Moore, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church, and Rev. J. H. Roe were introduced to the conference.

The entire session last night was taken up by the missionary anniversary of the Parent Mission Board. The principal speakers were Rev. Grasy and Dr. J. E. Jackson, of Durham, formerly pastor of St. Stephen's church. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the woman's missionary department of the conference will hold their annual meeting. The programme is varied and interesting. Tonight will be the greatest event of the conference. Prof. John R. Hawkins, educational commissioner for the A. M. E. Church, and having the distinction of being one of the most eloquent orators in his race and a noted educator, and Dr. D. J. Jordan, president of Kittrell College, who is among the leading educators of his race, are the principal speakers at this event which will be the greatest educational anniversary

REAR ADMIRAL A SUICIDE.

John Yeatman Taylor, Retired, Ends His Life.

Washington, November 16.—Rear Admiral John Yeatman Taylor, retired, former medical director of the United States Navy, and one of the most distinguished naval surgeons in the country, ended his life here today by shooting himself in the head with a navy pistol. The officer was alone in his study at the time, but the butler, hearing the report, found him unconscious. He died in half an hour

Admiral Taylor was 82 years old and had had a notable career as a naval surgeon. His health had long been poor and the death in an auto mobile accident at Wilmington, Del. two years ago, of his only son, Andrew Bryson Taylor, was a severe shock to the aged surgeon. He never saw the house afterwards and despondency over this sorrow and the hopeless condition of his health is believed to have prompted him to take his life

Born in East Nottingham, Pa., Admiral Taylor was graduated from Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, in 1852, and was appointed assistant surgeon in the United States Navy the following year. He was with Farragut on the Oneida in the battle of Mobile Bay, during the Civil war, and in that encounter won distinction.

Recognition came rapidly to Dr. Taylor. He became medical specitor in 1872 and medical director in 1879. and was retired in 1891. He also served as fleet surgeon and was in charge of the naval hospitals at Washington, Norfolk and New York. In recognition of his Civil war services, he was advanced to the rank of rear admiral in 1906.

Admiral Taylor is survived by his widow and one daughter, Charlotte Bryson Taylor, a magazine writer, who resides in New York.

ANNUAL REPORT ON PATENTS

Commissioner Moore Says Present Patent Building Unsafe

Washington, Nov. 16.—Fears of fire in the United States patent office and a consequent tremendous blow to the commercial interests of the country, are expressed in the annual report of United States Commissioner of Patents Moore, to Secretary of the Interior Fisher. The present home of the patent office, Mr. Moore declares, "is not fire-proof and is piled high with tons of inflammable material, comprising archives which, if destroyed, could never be re-placed and the loss of which would work untold damage to the commercial interests of the country.

"Much of this material is stored, he explains, in wooden cases and on open shelves."

He recommends that a new building be erected for the Bureau. In addition to being non-fire-proof, he says that the present quarters are "entirely obsolete and inadequate as to both space and equipment."

His report shows that during the past fiscal year there were issued 34,428 patents, including re-issues and designs, and that 3,791 trade marks, 576 labels and 181 prints were registered. It was not the heaviest year in the history of the patent office in this respect although in the number of applications received, more than 74,000, it exceeded all previous years.

PROMINENT BISHOP DIES

Rt. Rev. Alexander Mackay Smith Dies at Philadelphia Yesterday

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 16.—Bishop Alexander Mackay-Smith, of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania and one of the most prominent churchmen in the country, died suddenly at the Episcopal residence here early today. Death was due to heart disease. He was 61 years old.

Owing to poor health the Bishop was to have retired next February.

Bishop Mackay-Smith last evening attended a reception at the divinity school. Later he returned home and retired. At about 1 o'clock the Bishop called to his wife, who found him grasping for breath. She summoned the family to the bedside and in a few minutes the Bishop lapsed into unconsciousness. Dissolution followed.

Bishop Mackay-Smith was born in New Haven in 1850 and came of a distinguished New England family. He was graduated from Trinity College in 1872, studied at theological seminaries in New York and in England and Germany. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1878. He served as a city missionary in Boston, rector of Grace church, South Boston, was assistant rector of St. Thomas church, New York, from 1880 to 1886 and from 1886 to 1893 he was first archdeacon or missionary superintendent of the diocese of New York. In 1893 he became rector of St. John's church, Washington, and while there was chosen Bishop co-adjutor of the Pennsylvania diocese, succeeding Bishop Whitaker upon the death of the latter in February of this year.

Bishop Mackay-Smith leaves a widow and three daughters. His wife was Miss Virginia Stewart.

FAMINE IN RUSSIA

Sixty Million Dollars Necessary to Relief of Czar's Subjects

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—8 million persons are in need of immediate relief owing to the failure of the crops in 20 Russian provinces. This startling announcement was made in the Duma last evening by Premier Kokivzoff, in reply to interpellation concerning reports that famine threatened a wide area.

The premier explained that the crops had failed completely in 12 provinces and partially in eight others. Of the 12,500,000 inhabitants of the affected territory, 8,000,000 were in immediate need of relief.

The necessary measures would require, the premier said, the expenditure of $60,000,000, of which amount the imperial exchequer would have to find $44,000,000. Half of the total was necessary at once to defray the cost of supplies already dispatched.

M. Kokivzoff added that actual famine conditions were not widespread, but the sanitary situation was a cause of great anxiety.

When Florida Oranges and Grapefruit by the Box Come into the House by the Back Door, the Doctor and His Medicines Go Out the Front Door

Dr. Wiley, chief chemist of the agricultural department, says: "Eat oranges—eat them all the time, as many as you can: They will save you many a doctor's bill." Mr. Edwin Morris, a medical writer of note, claims that meats and juices kill thousands of babies, but excepts orange juice. He writes: "Meat and juice (except orange juice) are like so much poison to them (young children).

Mme. Lina Cavaliere, the famous star of grand opera, noted for her beauty, recently wrote: "If I could obtain only one sort of fruit, it should be oranges. Yet, much as I believe in the youth-protecting and beauty-making power of oranges, I seldom eat a whole orange. I suck all the juice from it and eat but a little of the pulp, because the pulp has woody qualities that make it hard to digest."

The only proper way to EAT an orange or grapefruit is to DRINK the juice. Once you have tasted the delicious juice of these fruits, you will not want them served otherwise.

FLORIDA CITRUS EXCHANGE

Florida oranges and grapefruit yield from 40 to 60 per cent more juice than others—you can easily prove for yourself that this is true by squeezing a given number of Floridas and others.

Not only are Florida oranges and grapefruit juiciest, but they are more highly flavored. In them the pure natural fruit juice is not thinned out by the waters of artificial irrigation—Florida's natural irrigation, sunshine, dew and balmy air cannot be successfully imitated.

Oranges and grapefruit should always be bought by the box—it's cheaper and more sanitary. The Florida standard box contains 15 per cent more fruit than the average-sized box of other packs. If the box bears the mark of the Exchange, it was packed by white-gloved workmen, and no hand has touched the fruit.

The Florida Citrus Exchange was organized to protect consumers against immature, imperfect, and unripe fruit. Every box it ships contains a booklet telling all about the household uses of oranges and grapefruit, how to serve, etc., and coupon good for half the price of fine silverware, cut-glass, etc. (Booklet without coupon for four cents in stamps mailed to the Florida Citrus Exchange, Tampa, Fla.)

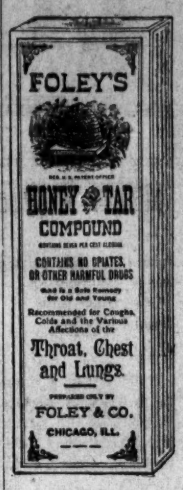
Why Florida Oranges and Grapefruit Are Best—and Why You Should Buy Only in Boxes Containing the Florida Citrus Exchange Mark

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND

FOR ALL COUGHS AND COLDS

FOR CHILDREN AND GROWN PERSONS

Most effective with Croup and Whooping Cough



FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND is quick and reliable. It stops the cough by promptly healing the cause. Contains no opiates. Is indispensable in a family where there are children.

ST. JOSEPH, MICH.

Mrs. Frank Marti, 417 Church St., says: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound saved the life of our baby boy. He contracted a severe bronchial trouble and coughed violently and had spells of coughing and gagging and turned black in the face. I always had great faith in Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and started giving it to the child. In a short time he was relieved and finally the cough was entirely stopped and the coughing and gagging spells ceased bothering him. He got well in a short time, gaining in weight and getting robust. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved us trouble and this with the wonderful cure in baby's case shows its great merit. We are never without Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. We always keep it in the house."

IMPORTANT RAILWAY DECISION

Relief Departments Lawful, But Void Under Certain Circumstances—Wilmington Corporation Applies for License.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 16.—Application for license to do business and a certification of organization under the State charter recently granted were received today by State Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young, from the Carolina Title Insurance Co., Wilmington, N. C. The license will be issued at once. The organization of the company, which has ample capital stock, was perfected with the election of W. B. Cooper, president; V. Sidbury, vice president, and J. O. Reilly, treasurer, and K. C. Sidbury, secretary. This is the second company of the kind formed to do business in this State, the first being an Asheville concern that has made quite a success.

The State Department of Insurance has been notified of the arrest of C. E. James, at Whiteville, Columbus county, on the charge of selling stock of the Silver Queen Mining Co., Mexico, an unlicensed company. He has been bound over to the Superior Court for trial. Under the North Carolina law the stock of no such concern can be sold in this State except through licensed agents.

The North Carolina Supreme Court was much divided in arriving at conclusions in the New Hanover county case of King vs. Atlantic Coast Line Railway Co., in which a new trial was granted to King in his suit that involves the Relief Department of the Coast Line against which the brotherhoods of employes on other railroads have been largely lined up for some years with bi-ennial fights before the North Carolina Legislatures to break it up. The controlling opinion of the court holds that the department is a lawful organization with rules that may be void under certain circumstances. Justice Brown, in a concurring opinion, strongly upholds the Relief Department as purely beneficial to employes and his position is concurred in by Justice Walker. On the other hand, Chief Justice Walter Clark declares in a special opinion filed by him that the department is a violation of law, an oppression of the employes of the railroad, a sham and a device whereby the employes are made to pay out of their wages all damages to an employe if injured, the railroad company escaping all liability. All five justices agree on the conclusion that King is entitled to a new trial through error of the trial judge.

The executive committee of the University trustees will push along new plans for the erection of the proposed new George Peabody educational building at the University, also a new dormitory structure that will relieve the present serious handicap the institution is suffering through lack of dormitory quarters on the University grounds. Many more than half the students are obliged now to procure rooms and board out in the town of Chapel Hill and the surrounding country.

THE NEWBERN EXHIBIT.

Promises to be Big Event in East Carolina—The Programme.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Nov. 16.—The Craven county Agricultural and Stock Exhibit and Aviation Meet, which will take place in Newbern November 22nd and 23rd, will be the biggest event of its kind that has been attempted in eastern North Carolina in a number of years. Every indication points to a record breaking crowd. The railroads are offering special rates and the people are going to take advantage of this rare opportunity.

The programme has been arranged as follows:

On November 22nd the exhibit will open with a parade at 11 A. M., which will escort the Governor to the exhibit hall, on George street, where he will deliver the opening address. Marshals have been appointed from the various adjoining counties and nearly all have accepted. The parade will be as follows: Mounted police, marshals, second infantry band, coast artillery, naval reserves, fire department, Italian band, Farmers' Union, automobiles, carriages and industrial floats.

Three blocks from the exhibit hall, on National avenue, there has been built an "Aviation Field," 1,000 feet square, surrounded by a fence ten feet high. Inside the fence there will be a half mile race track and a midway. The shows on the midway will all be clean and wholesome.

On November 22nd, at 3 P. M. there will be flights by a Curtiss aeroplane at the aviation field. At 2:30 P. M., a football game, Newbern vs. Washington, at the aviation field. At 4:30 P. M., Harry Six will make his sensational dive from the top of a ladder 100 feet high into a pool of water three feet deep. Eight first-class attractions on the Midway. Admission to the aviation field will be 50 cents, children under 12, 25 cents.

On November 23rd, at 1 P. M., there will be racing on the half-mile track. At 2 P. M. flights by the Curtiss aeroplane. At 4 P. M., high dive by Harry Six. Music for all occasions will be furnished by the Second Infantry Band and Sabia's Royal Italian Band.

At 9:30 Grand Marshals' Ball at Stanley Hall.

BEATS WORLD'S RECORD

Frenchman Covers Six Miles and Fifty Yards in Half Hour

Paris, Nov. 16.—J. Bonin, the Colombes runner, today covered nine kilometers, 721 meters (about six miles, 50 yards) in half an hour. This beats the world's record established in 1863 by J. W. White, of England.

The nearest American record to that established by Bonin are the indoor and outdoor six-mile record made by G. V. Bonhag, Irish-American Athletic Club, which are respectively, 30 minutes, 42 seconds, and 31 minutes, 5 1-2 seconds.

ON SUNSET MOUNTAIN.

Bromo-Quinine Capitalist to Erect Quarter Million Dollar Hotel.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 16.—A number of business men of the city leave this afternoon for St. Louis to confer with E. W. Grove, of Bromo-Quinine fame, with reference to the erection of a modern hotel on the top of Sunset Mountain to which point Mr. Grove has recently constructed an exclusive automobile road. Mr. Grove has been considering the proposition to build such a hotel for several months, but it was only recently that the plans have begun to take definite shape. Mr. Grove has recently been communicating with some of the banks and business men with reference to financing of the project.

It seems to be his idea that some of the capital should come from a local source and tentative propositions to the banks indicate that he would expect about $100,000 from this source. The bankers are as a matter of course, rather reticent about the matter and whether he wishes them to take stock, for the banks, to loan money, or to get private citizens to subscribe, cannot be learned, but it is probably the latter. In fact, the bankers state that he has not yet made them a definite proposition, and only wishes to consult with Asheville representatives with respect to what course would be advisable. It is proposed that the building cost about $250,000.

Some of the Asheville business men are greatly pleased with the proposition and it is highly probable that it will be carried out, that is that local capital to the amount will be subscribed.

If the hotel is built it is also planned to construct an incline railway to the top of the mountain, which with the "autoway" will afford easy access te the hotel.

Sunset Mountain is high above the city and the scenery from the top is grand and imposing.

GREENSBORO BANKS.

Consolidation Becomes Effective—Game in Abundance.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 16.—The formal consolidation of the Commercial National Bank and the American Exchange Bank of Greensboro was effected yesterday and at the usual closing hour the Commercial National fastened its doors to open no more. The consolidated banks will occupy the present location of the American Exchange on East Market street. The consolidation of the two banks gives Greensboro one of the strongest financial institutions in the State. The combined capital is $400,000, while the total resources aggregates more than $2,000,000. R. G. Vaughn, president of the American Exchange, becomes president of the consolidated bank, while F. C. Boyles, cashier of the Commercial National, becomes cashier of the American Exchange. F. H. Nicholson, of the American Exchange Bank, will be assistant cashier of the consolidated bank.

The sportsmen of Greensboro and Guilford county together with many sportsmen from the North who have for years enjoyed quail shooting in this county and section, made for the fields early today in search of the elusive quail. It is said that game is plentiful in Guilford this season and that sportsmen will have a real jolly good time for the next ten weeks. Much of the bird land in Guilford is posted and permits are hard to obtain.

SALARY LIMITS

Of Baseball Leagues Will Be Cut To Quick.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 16.—The salary limits of every baseball league except the majors, will be cut to the quick next season if a movement started today at the convention of the National Professional Baseball Leagues by Wilbur A. Allen, president of the Texas League, bears fruit. The Texan's plan is for a central board to fix a salary limit for every league of a certain classification and fix penalties for the violation of such limit taking the power of fixing salaries away from the individual leagues.

It was further argued that unless the salary limit of each league is the same the classification is, in fact, made void as some leagues of a lower classification have a higher salary limit than those of the higner.

Practically the entire business session today of minor league leaders was devoted to the salary limit problem and in the end it was referred to a committee. It was the concensus of opinion among those who participated in the debate that the fixing of salary limits either by classification or population of the different cities under the direction of the National Association is imperative.

The suggestion of Secretary Quinn, of the Columbus, Ohio, club, that the salaries of players who go to a higher league should be on a fixed scale was generally approved.

The advancement of the American Association and the Eastern League to a higher classification to be known as A. A., was recommended by a sub-committee which met today. It is proposed that leagues in this class be permitted to draft from all other minor leagues.

FOUR YOUTHS ARRESTED

Will Await Hearing on Charge of Hold-Ups

Petersburg, Va., Nvo. 16.—Four youths who say they are J. L. Brown, aged 14; Charles C. Williams, 16; John L. Cary, 17, and James Davis, 18, of New York city, arrested after a running pistol fight in the railroad yards at Weldon, N. C., early today were brought here tonight and jailed to await hearing on charge of holding up and robbing Charles Brown, of this city, near Petersburg last night. They are believed to be the men who on Tuesday night in Richmond held up and robbed A. V. Harman, of that city.

TROOPS TO PERSIA.

Russia Receives No Reply to Dispatches Soldiers Thither.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 16.—As no reply has been received from the Persian government to the Russian ultimatum of November 11th, it is officially announced that the government has ordered the immediate dispatch of troops to Persia. They will be concentrated for the present at Kastin, called also Kazevin, which is 90 miles northwest of Teheran.

Early in November the Russian government sent an ultimatum to Persia setting forth that unless the Persian minister of foreign affairs apologized for the alleged insult to M. Petroff, Russian vice consul at Teheran on the occasion of the seizure of the property of Shua-Es-Sultaneh, and made other raparation, Russia would occupy the provinces of Chilan and Mezanderan.

The seizure of the property of Shua-Es-Sultaneh was carried out at the instance of the national counsel by W. Morgan Shuster, Persian treasurer general.

Later the head of the Russian section of the Persian foreign office informed the Russian minister that as the new cabinet had not been formed it was impossible for the government to reply immediately to Russia's demand for an apology.

Late dispatches from London referring to further encroachment upon Persia's independence by both Russia and Great Britain said that if Russia enforced her ultimatum by occupying a part of the north, Great Britain was likely to take a corresponding step in the south. Russian troops in the north have been strongly reinforced, while Great Britain has landed two regiments of Indian troops at Bushir, a seaport of Persia, nominally to guard the British consul in the south.

FOR ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Three Are Placed on Trial on the Charge.

Lincoln Center, Kan., Nov. 16. — Sherrill Clark, a wealthy merchant; A. N. Simms, a mill worker, and John Schmitt, a farmer, were placed on trial late today for "assault and battery," found in connection with the tarring of Miss Mary Chamberlain.

Previously Everett G. Clark, president of a Shady Bend milling company, and Watson Scanton, and Jay Fitzwater, farmers, unexpectedly entered pleas of guilty.

Judge Glover said tonight he would pass sentence after the hearing of the present cases.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 16.—Asleep on the track, an unidentified white man was struck by a Southern Railway train this morning, between Winnsboro and Columbia, and died in the union passenger station here shortly afterward. The train was bound to Columbia from Charlotte. The deceased appears to be about 25 years old. A bundle of clothing which he carried was wrapped in paper from a store at Smith's post-office, between Chester and Rock Hill, S. C.

HEALTHY MOTHERS

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

The Milam Medicine Co., Inc.,

Danville, Va.

Gentlemen:-

It gives me pleasure to tell you how much good your "Milam" has done me. I have had more or less uric acid trouble for ten or fifteen years, and at times I had attacks of rheumatic gout that were not only excruciatingly painful, but that laid me up in bed for a week at a time. I used everything the doctors recommended, but obtained only a little relief. Last May, I was so fortunate as to try Milam, and having procured through you a case of a half a dozen, I used it faithfully. I cannot tell you what relief it has given me. It may be too soon for me to claim a permanent cure, but I mean to keep up the treatment, feel glad to think I have found a thing to free me from my great suffering, and enable me to keep up my work in comfort. If all your patients have my experience, you will not have to refund much money.

Very respectfully yours,
W. W. Royall
Member Virginia Conference, M. E. C. S.

Ask your druggist for six bottles of Milam on our liberal guarantee—money back if not benefited.

The Busy Season is Now on at

Gaylord's

Store.

Each and every department is receiving a big share of the trade. The Ladies Tailor-Made Suit Department has doubled its last year's business and we are receiving New Suits by almost every express. Have just purchased a Salesman's Samples this week. All lined with the very best Skinner's Satin, and the Suits are much cheaper than if they were bought regular. We have nice blue serge suits, with guaranteed lining, as low as $12.50 per suit. Assorted colors in suits of different kinds at $10.00 per suit. Ladies' Suits in new and nobby patterns, all-wool goods, with Skinner lining, at $15.00, $17.50 and $19.75 per suit.

Ladies' and Misses and Children's Cloaks —— We have had splendid sales in this line this season, and we are selling Children's Caracul Cloaks at $2.75 each. Misses' Caracul Coats at $4.50 and $6.00, and Ladies' Caracul Coats, goods that we sold for $18.00 last season we are selling today in the New Styles and New Cuts, with big Shawl Collars, at $9.98. Our regular price for these Coats is $12.50. Ladies' good Cloth Coats fifty-four inches long, with Velvet Collars, regular $6.00 coast, for $3.98. Cloth Coats, with Fur Collars and Cuffs, at $5.00. Teddy Bear Coats for Children, in all colors, for $1.98.

LADIES' SKIRTS — We have just received this week a big shipment of quite right Skirts for Ladies. These goods are new and up to the latest style in a good many different cloths and trimmings, from $3.98 to $8.50. If you need a Skirt, it would Pay you to see this line of goods before buying.

We are receiving our Holiday Goods in large quantities. We have Toys of every kind—Wagons of all kinds, Velocipedes, Roller Skates, Go-Carts and Baby Carriages.

I have made great preparations for the Wholesale business in the Toy line this season, and I ask the Merchants for North and South Carolina to look at my goods before buying. I can ship without any delay, and give regular terms. All orders are solicited and prices sent on application.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. 'Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

The idea has prevailed that it is expensive to build good roads. It is now recognized that better highways are economical and that it is bad roads that are expensive. A county cannot afford to have poor roads, for poor roads will make a fertile county poor and keep it poor. The most prosperous counties in North Carolina have the best roads.

It is said President Taft's tariff board will try to put the blame on the middlemen for the high cost of living, and that President Taft will go for the middlemen in his message to Congress next month. Of course, the middleman has to answer for a great deal but it isn't fair to make him responsible for the crimes of the Republican party. The people know better.

A country which can produce two big crops of Irish potatoes in one season on the same land will soon be eating Northern potatoes. We are eating Northern butter when we should be making our own butter. We are using hay made in Canada, Mexico, and the West instead of growing our own forage. When we quit this and other things like it, we will be prosperous instead of losing money growing cotton.

Washington officials declare women stenographers are objectionable because "blondes are too distracting and blondes are too chatty." Of course, the same thing could be said about brunettes, but blondes and brunettes would be distracting and chatty, even if they were not stenogrpahers. The objection is not worth considering, and we bet it comes from some officeholders who loiter around and expect their stenographers to do all the work.

TREMENDOUS LATIN TRADE.

While the United States have been shutting in the home trade from foreigners we have let them capture the trade of Latin American countries with almost as much export and import business as our own country. According to the Bulletin of the Pan-American Union the foreign commerce of the twenty Latin-American Republics for the year 1910 amounted to $2,343,744,030, an increase of $202,769,790 over the preceding year.

In those twenty Latin-American States there are also nearly as many people as we have in the United States proper. Their population is 73,666,028 and our about 90,000,000, a difference of only 17,000,000. In 1910 the foreign commerce of our American neighbors amounted to $31.81 per capita, while for the same year the per capita foreign trade of the United States was only $5.37 greater than that of Latin-America.

The imports of Latin-America in 1910 were $1,057,833,232, and those of the United States $1,562,924,251. The exports of our Southern neighbors were $1,285,910,798, and of the United States $1,864,491,644. The Latin-American per capita of imports was $14.36, and of imports $17.46, against a per capita in the United States of $16.96 as to imports and $20.22 as to exports.

It will be observed that we have in Latin-America a tremendous country almost as important a market as our own, and that both Americas have the balance of trade in their favor, as against Europe. The United States and the Latin countries are so rich in resources that they sell more than they buy, thus annually pocketing the difference and growing that much richer year by year. Is it possible, as smart as the Yankee nation thinks it is, we have let far-away European nations invade the American countries and almost monopolize a trade nearly as large as they would have had in the United States, had we let them trade as freely as they do with the Latin-American countries?

In several of the Latin States the per capita trade far exceeded that of the United States in 1910. For instance, Cuba's imports amounted to a per capita of $48.01, and her exports $69.98, of a total of $117.89 per capita of foreign trade. Argentina's imports were $48.82 per capita and her exports $51.72, or a total of $100.54, while Uraguay's imports were $38.49 per capita and her exports were $38.97. Chile did a per capita import business of $30.89 and exports of $34.29. This plainly indicates the tremendous producing and purchasing power of Latin-America, and yet the United States have failed to cultivate the relations that might have gotten most of that trade for this country, or at least, a very much larger share of it. It must also be remembered that there has been a sudden and enormous rise of Latin-America in the scale of commercial importance, and that there is among our South American neighbors a growing purchasing power, while as yet the development of those countries has barely begun. However, they must have been developed on a greater scale than we have conceived in the United States, and it would appear that we have been asleep and barely realize the truth of it now. However, our trade with Latin America is considerable and is growing, but as a whole we buy more from our American neighbors than they do from us. They have the balance of trade against us. Owing to the approaching completion of the Panama Canal, the facts concerning the general trade with these neighboring Republics will be read with interest. The Bulletin of the Pan-American Union thus summarizes it:

"Of the foreign commerce last year of the 20 Latin-American States, $1,958,890,910, or nearly 84 per cent, was accounted for by the trade of Argentina, Brazil, Cuba, Chili and Mexico. Of the trade of these five Republics the share of the United States was a little over 30 per cent., or a trifle more than our total percentage of the trade of Latin America, which was 29.46, against 23.26 for the United Kingdom, our nearest rival. But the distribution is somewhat unequal. That is to say, of the Latin Republics of North America, our proportion of their exports was 74.78 per cent., while of the South American group our proportion was 20.20 per cent. On the other hand, the northern group took 55.20 of their imports from the United States and the southern group only 13.64 per cent. Our total trade with Cuba last year was $183,897,900, or 72 per cent. of its entire foreign commerce; that with Mexico was $154,854,410, or 68 per cent. of the whole; that With Brazil was $142,437,986, or 26.1 per cent. of the total; that with the Argentine was $71,532,119, or 10.2 per cent. of the whole, while that with Chili was $38,050,652, or 16.6 per cent. of the whole. In round figures, we bought from Cuba $75,000,000 more than we sold to her; from Brazil we bought $82,000,000 more; from Mexico $42,000,000 more; from Chili $110,000,000 more; while to Argentina alone our sales were in excess of our purchases by $22,400,000. Further, according to the Bulletin, if the value of manufactured articles to the exporting country be to the greater degree in proportion to the relative amount of labor expended in their fabrication and to a lesser degree to the raw material entering therein then the export trade of the United States to Latin-America, and particularly to South America, is on a decidedly lower plane than that of any of the other leading exporting countries. The order of the countries as representing the relative values of their exports to Latin-America on the basis, not of gross amounts but of quality of goods, is put down as follows: France, United Kingdom, Italy, Spain, Netherlands, Germany, Belgium and United States. In all departments of the iron and steel trade the character of the exports to Latin-America from the United States is fully equal to that of the United Kingdom, and decidedly superior to that of Belgium and Germany. In boots, shoes and leather the United States ranks with France and Italy, all three being much ahead of the other countries. In the drug trade we occupy a position somewhat above the average, but in most of the other departments of industry our exports to Latin-America, and particularly to the southern division, are on a lower plane than those of any other country. In textile products, all that are of high grade come from France, Italy, the United Kingdom, Spain and Germany. These countries control the Latin-American markets in silk, wool, and linen fabrics, while in cotton textiles the United States competes only in the cheaper grades. While we send cotton yarn, the knitted goods come from Europe. So also in wood and its products; lumber is from the United States, but furniture and other finished articles are from Europe. Flour and wheat come from the United States, but biscuits, pastes and the like are from the United Kingdom or Italy. Thus of the great Latin-American markets Cuba and Mexico are the only ones in which the United States is a serious rival of Europe in high-grade manufactures."

The Pan-American Union is mostly a United States organization, and the editors of its publication, while regretting that the United States makes such a poor showing, strange to say, do not suggest a ship subsidy to build up our commerce with our neighbors. It is left open for this country to discover why we are not getting our share of trade. It will be found that the real cause of it is because we have neglected our opportunities while living off each other under our protective tariff policy. We really may be poor traders and have lost confidence in ourselves, actually being afraid to try to hold our home market without taxing the foreigners out of our country.

STRIPES FOR TRUST CRIMINALS.

The "rule of reason" legislated into the Sherman Act by the United States Supreme Court, has brought on more agitation on the trust question. Neither the people nor the trusts seem to be satisfied with it. The people want the trusts annihilated, and since they believe the "rule of reason" will prevent that, there has been renewed talk of further amendments to the Sherman Act so that the "rule of reason" can be legislated out of court.

Congress will meet in December and already it appears that there are lively times ahead. The people are determined to put the trusts out of business and if it cannot be done by fines and dissolution decrees, they are going to insist upon sending trust criminals to jail or the penitentiary. The Star's Washington dispatches yesterday tell us that Congressman Henry, of Texas, will introduce a bill providing for "felon stripes" as a punishment for trust criminals, in order to "end commercial piracy under benovelent rules of reason." The Texas stateman is going after the trusts with such a bill at the approaching session.

No doubt others will also propose more trust legislation, but the New York World, anticipating such movements, declares that "the Democrats in Congress will play directly into the hands of President Taft if they undertake to amend the Sherman anti-trust law to eliminate the rule of reason as interpreted by the Supreme Court." The World of Wednesday, says:

"Wall street would welcome such an amendment, for it would necessitate another interpretation of the statute by the Supreme Court and would mean years of delay while the litigation was pending. Mr. Taft would welcome such an amendment, because it would give him a chance to use his veto power and stand before the country as the great champion of the Sherman act."

In the meantime, the Steel Trust officials are going to refuse to give out any more information if it is to be used to prosecute them and put them in stripes. The Beef Trust is not satisfied with the rule of reason and is at work in a sly way to have it interpreted so the constitutionality of the Sherman law can be attacked.

TWO BALES TO THE ACRE

A Wilson dispatch to the Raleigh News and Observer says:

"Mr. Silas Lucas has a tenant on his farm named Swift Ford, who has picked out thirty-five bales of cotton from sixteen acres and there are two bales remaining in the field. Of all the cotton in Wilson county we believe the yield will average more than a bale to the acre. Mr. J. D. Farrior is one of Wilson's cotton planters. He says he has three hundred acres of 'the fleecy' in the field yet that has not been touched yet—not a single 'lock' having been picked. When asked the reason why, he said: 'I can't afford to pay the prices asked by the 'pickers,' I would rather the staple should remain where it is than to pay the price asked for housing.'"

Catch on to the fact that Mr. Lucas' tennant has produced more than two bales to the acre, and in Wilson county that the yield will average more than a bale to the acre. This same report comes from practically all the counties in eastern North Carolina, and if all the South would equal North Carolina's phenominal yield the 35,000,000 acres in cotton throughout the South would produce a crop of enormous proportions. It is a good thing that most of the other cotton country produces only about a third of a bale per acre.

The fact is, eastern North Carolina is an ideal cotton-growing country and hereafter we simply have to be careful about doing our best.

A contemporary remarks: "North Carolina can produce everything that grows in the temperate zone and lots of things that grow in the tropics." We "can" but we don't. We ought to but we won't. We would be better off if we would only grow one-fourth the products which can be grown in North Carolina.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The chances are that Mr. Butler is not hoping to help either of the candidates, but is satisfied if he can merely make trouble for somebody.—Durham Sun.

Another company of Ohio prospectors will start on December 5th for an excursion through that portion of eastern North Carolina traversed by the Norfolk-Southern Railroad. Carolina club has sent them, through the officials of the railroad, an invitation to visit Greenville on this trip. Though a reply to the invitation has not yet been received, we hope it will be accepted and that they will come to Greenville.—Greenville Reflector.

"In view of the fact that the North Carolina Conference, M. E. Church, South, is to meet at Kinston, The Free Press urges the citizens to 'clean up' the town. If they will as effectually clean up the town as the preachers will clean up the chickens, Kinston will begin the new year with a clean bill of health," says the Wilmington Star. And, if these dire predictions come true, we fear we will also begin the new year with an abnormally bullish chicken market.—Kinston Free Press.

Maybe, after all, they will have women suffrage in China before we have it in all the United States. It is the belief of the New York American that Chinese women will be voting and holding office before the women of New York and Massachusetts are doing so. The Chinese revolutionists, it seems, have recognized the principle of equality of the sexes in politics, so that in the event of their success—and there does not now seem to be much room for doubting that they will succeed, there will be at once the qualification of women as electors and officeholders.—Savannah News.

If the International Harvester people have to vacate Missouri, let them come to Charlotte, set up their plant somewhere near the city and continue the work of manufacturing harvesting machinery. These people have done business here for several years past and have made Charlotte one of the largest distributing points in the South. We would rather have them make their machinery here, as well as distribute it from Charlotte. If there is any such a thing as a good trust, the International Harvester Company is one. It has operated in every way for the benefit of the farmer and has given him better machinery, more improved machinery and cheaper machinery than he could have obtained otherwise. It is a trust we would like to secure for Charlotte. Wicked, arn't we?—Charlotte Chronicle.

The term "Railroad Commission" often means that they are commissions paid by the public to regulate railroads which are controlled by railroads to prevent their regulation. There have been times when this was nearly so in good old North Carolina, and it has virtually been generally true of the commission at Washington. The Greensboro Record thinks the following strange: "The Commerce Court in Washington has enjoined a railroad from reducing freight rates. The thing seems to be working backwards. We thought the purpose of this court was to 'put it on the roads. In this case the road has said nothing about appealing. This is up to the other fellow." A commission that upholds the discriminating rates against North Carolina and makes rates for cotton mills in New Hampshire lower to California on cotton goods than it gives to North Carolina manufacturers for the export trade and permits other wrongs, may may not be—is not—a railroad commission in every sense. But it is not the fair commission to which the people are entitled or for which they pay—Raleigh News and Observer.

WET FEET
CAUSED TROUBLE

Mrs. Coram Couldn't Avoid It, But Friend in Need Promptly Remedies the Mischief Done.

Tampa, Fla.—Mrs. E. C. Coram, of 2905 Highland avenue, says: "I was very weak and worn out from womanly troubles. My husband bought me two bottles of Cardui to take as a tonic, and from the first day it seemed to me I felt its good effects. By the time I had used the two bottles, I felt and looked like a new woman.

Some time later I got my feet wet at the wrong time, and I turned to Cardui to remedy the mischief done.

Before I had taken one bottle it gave me the needed relief.

I gave the rest to a friend, for her daughter, who was suffering with similar troubles, and it cured her.

Cardui has had a most wonderful curative effect upon me. I am now 59 years of age, and feeling well. I constantly praise Cardui to all my sick friends. It is a wonderful remedy."

Thousands of ladies all over the country know by actual experience what it will do, for the ailments to which all women are liable.

A PATRIOTIC DUTY.

Movement for Former Brunswickians to Attend Celebration.

Editor Morning Star:—I have thought that it would be the proper thing to do for all former residents of Brunswick county at large now living in Wilmington, to arrange to go in a body to Southport on the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railroad on the 23rd inst., thus lending their influence, presence and good will toward helping to make this auspicious event one of great success. And when I saw by the papers that there was a movement on the part of some of the former residents of the county in that direction, I was glad. I think it is the patriotic duty of every son, and daughter, too, of old Brunswick, either native or by adoption, to be in evidence at Southport on that day and help to fittingly celebrate an event which at least frees our good old county and town from thralldom of isolation from the outside world by railroad. Let us "get busy" as the time is short.

GRANDMOTHER USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Its Natural Color—Try a Bottle of Sage and Sulphur.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

This remedy is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If your hair is losing color or coming out, start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what a change it will make in a few days' time.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

PYTHIAN RALLY LAST NIGHT

Members of Local Lodges Entertained in Castle Hall---Excellent Speech by Rev. Dr. Frank Mallett, of Salisbury

Celebrating postponed observance of "Orphan's Home Day," which was last Friday, a large number of local Knights of Pythias, with their wives and friends, met last night in Castle Hall, in the Murchison Bank building and spent one of most pleasant evenings imaginable, being entertained by several musical numbers and a lecture par excellence.

The speaker of the occasion was Rev. Dr. Frank J. Mallett, an Episcopal minister of Salisbury, widely known as an author and lecturer, and though his appearance last night was his first in Wilmington it is the earnest hope of those who were fortunate enough to hear him that it will not be the last.

Blending the humorous with the pathetic in words that went straight to the heart, picturing the sublime in one moment and the ridiculous in another, painting in glowing phrases the beauties of the true meaning of life and the ugly canker of the sorid commercial spirit that prevails in this modern age, the speaker held the audience spell-bound for an hour and a half, receiving an ovation when he sat down.

The meeting was opened with several vocal solos by Mr. Morgan, who is now filling an engagement at the Grand Theatre, and who has a splendid voice. Mr. Morgan was warmly applauded at the conclusion of his part of the programme.

Capt. Thomas D. Meares, Master of Exchequer of the Supreme Lodge, who presided in the absence of Col. Walker Taylor, who could not be present on account of sickness in his family, introduced Mr. J. Herbert Smith —of Cronly or Wilmington, he did not know which—whom he said would introduce the orator of the evening.

In opening his introduction Mr. Smith told the audience that he had been spending a greater part of his time in a dentist's chair for the past few days and that he had only acceded to the request to introduce the speaker out of consideration for the ladies and gentlemen who were present, as he had no desire to have them bored by Deputy Grand Chancellor J. N. Nutt, who would have performed the duty had he not accepted. Mr Smith made a short talk on the danger of the commercial spirit of the age and the need of more sentiment and romance in life, introducing Dr. Mallett whom he said had the eloquency to describe these conditions and needs.

Taking as his theme "The Romance of Pythianism" and stating at the outset that while his name was Mallett he was no knocker, the speaker first remarked on the fact that there were so many ladies in the audience, saying that he was glad to see conditions thus because it showed that the Wilmington women were not prejudiced against fraternal orders. He spoke of the fact that so many women are bitterly opposed to their husbands belonging to a secret order and told how this often caused a rupture between the wife and husband and bred distrust and ill-feeling toward each other. He remarked that there is a place in the life of man that woman cannot fill and that the lodge fills, this place, could only women see it so. Relative to the suspicions of some women that the conduct of lodge men is not always of the best he declared that he was glad of the opportunity to declare, as a clergyman, that it was his firm belief that not only in Pythianism, but in all other orders, that in the proper working out of the principles of the order, nothing was done that was not a benefit to a man, as a husband, lover or brother.

Dr. Mallett explained that the thing he wished to build his talk upon mostly was sentiment. He declared that the thing that attracted him to Pythianism was the fact that he felt the need of some place where he could go and be just a man—simply one of the boys. The capitalist and the man who is working for him, he speaker explained, meet in the lodge room on common ground—as man to man, equal in the sight of each other and of all the lodgemen.

But, Dr. Mallett declared, there is something lacking in Pythianism, something which is vitally needed. He read statistics to show that during one year 51,000 new members were added to the order in the United States but when the number of of quitters, as he called those who had dropped off the list, had been substracted from this number the total increase in membership was only a little over 3,000. He declared that the order needed something to rally round, to make new vows or go back to the old vows, and make the order what it should be. Some means or method should be found to get around dropping a poor man from the membership roll because he was unable to pay his dues.

True Friendship and sentiment was needed more than anything else, the speaker declared. "Go back to the old Greek scene, the scene of Damon and Pythias, and take your lesson from that." He spoke of the Greek art, the Greek literature and Greek architecture and the influence it has on present day art, literature and architecture, and asked why that old Greek story of true friendship and romance should not have the significance in Pythianism that was intended by the founders of the odrer.

"If the sentiment expressed by the English author who said that every man was ultimately moved by purely selfish motives is true, then Chrisitanity is a failure," said Dr. Mallett, "and it were just as well, as Bryan suggested, to 'Nail humanity on a cross of gold.'"

"The remedy in this sorid commercial age, he said, is more romance, more sentiment and a truer home life. Pay more attention to the home and less to business or commerce.

"There are even those," said the speaker, "who would make Pythianism a stepping stone to the dollar." He told of an instance that occurred in a Northern lodge which he helped found, of how one of the members, a Hebrew, used the friendship and the lodge ties in an effort to get the members to trade at his store, "and the tribe is not dead yet," he concluded, adding as an afterthought, "such is the romance of Pythianism."

The way to prove a friendship is to be a friend to some one and to show it, and not to hide the light under a bushel, Dr. Mallett said, and argued that noble sentiment and high ideals are what makes life sweet and pure, and possible

In concluding Dr. Mallett urged the members of the local lodges and all other members of the order who were present to rally round the flag of Pythianism, to go back to the old Greek scene of Damon and Pythias and model their lives after the sentiment of which that legend is a symbol, to study it and to live accordingly.

The speaker was greeted by a storm of applause as he took his seat. Captain Meares then thanked Dr. Mallett for his lecture in a few hearty words Many persons in the audience crowded forward and met the speaker, each adding their thanks for the lecture and expressing their pleasure at having been fortunate enough to be present and hear it.

QUANTITY OF WHISKEY FOUND

Place of Mr. John Wrede Searched at Sixth and Brunswick Streets ---Police Continue Inspection of Places

Continuing their belated inspection of near-beer emporiums and other suspicious places under authority of an ordinance effective in the Summer, the police Wednesday night searched the place of Mr. John Wrede corner Sixth and Brunswick streets, making the biggest find of whiskey and beer they have discovered since they began a visit of the places last week.

According to the report filed with Chief of Police John J. Fowler yesterday morning, the officers found a total of 148 gallons of whiskey and about 900 bottles of beer. There were two barrels of bulk goods, one containing 45 gallons of corn whiskey and the other 45 gallons of gin, and one-half barrel containing 32 gallons of rye whiskey, Quarts, pints and half pints were found to the amount of 26 gallons of all brands and blends Seven barrels of beer which had never been unpacked were found, each containing 120 bottles, besides a number of bottles which had been taken from the original package. The whiskey and beer was left in the place by the officers, as the law does not give them authority to seize it.

The inspection was made by Officers Frank George, A. A. Nelms and Jesse Brown. The police have made a number of inspections during the past week and they were scheduled to make a search of a certain place last night, but report was not to be made until this morning to Chief of Police Fowler. It is understood that it is the policy of the police department to continue these inspections from time to time.

NOTES FROM THE Y. M. C. A.

Gymnasium Classes Are Becoming More Popular Than Ever—Yoke Fellows' Revival Services Subject of Prayer

The gymnasium classes at the Y. M. C. A. are becoming more popular each day and a large number of men and boys are being benefitted by the efficient work done there. One feature of especial interest is the larg number of business men who are taking advantage of the 6 o'clock busy men's class. The men of the city are cordially invited to call at the building and witness the work of any or all the classes.

The revival services which are being held at Wrightsboro Union Sunday School by the Yoke Fellows' band continue in interest, the building being filled every night. Rev. G. T. Adams gave a very interesting talk last night. Tonight Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure will close the week of services and the school will no doubt be taxed to its utmost capacity.

The association has been fortunate in securing Mr. A. W. Hawks (Sunshine Hawks) for a series of two addresses Sunday, November 19th, and Sunday, November 26th. These services will be held in the Bijou Theatre and judging from the large number who heard Mr. Hawks when he was here two months ago a crowded house will greet him next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. He will take as his subject, "Love the Conquerer." Special music is being arranged for the meeting.

A number of men are meeting each day to observe the special week of prayer that the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. has called for. Today is Patriotic Day and a prayer of thanksgiving for a continental ethical revival; for a quickened national conscience; for the increased interest which the men of North America are taking in civic affairs and in National problems, is asked for. Also special prayer that every Christian man may prove his patriotism by helping to purify politics by personal co-operation in movejustice, government and personal morals; (2) for our rulers local, State, provincial and national; (3) that our churches may influence government by the practical expression of the principles of Jesus in the daily lives of men; (4) forever increasing efforts to apply the eternal principles of righteousness to international relationship; for the complete victory of international arbitration. The foreign topic is Europe. For the co-operation of the Christian men in the men and religious movement. The meeting today at 1 o'clock will be conducted by B. A. Thees.

Fir Early Last Night

Fire of unknown origin which started in a bed room of the second floor of the residence of Mr. E. V. McKenzie, No. 804 Dock street, at 7:50 o'clock last evening, did an estimated damage of $200 to the building and furniture before the arrival of the firemen, who answered promptly an alarm from box 53, corner Eighth and Market streets. The loss is said to be fully covered by insurance with the agency of J. H. Boatwright & Son.

ART EXHIBIT BIG SUCCESS

First Day's Attendance at High School Auditorium Most Gratifying—Fine Collection on Display.

With a splendid attendance, the art exhibit in the auditorium of the High School, for the purpose of raising funds to provide suitable pictures for decorating the different school rooms of the city, opened yesterday, and the proceeds from the first day are most gratifying indeed.

Over 700 school children called during the day and spent some time in looking at the many handsome prints on display and in addition there were a large number of grown-ups who also enjoyed the exhibit. Included in the exhibit are nearly 200 prints of the most famous pictures in history, as well as the more modern productions from the brushes of the latter day artists, and the sight is well worth seeing.

Yesterday was Hemenway Day and the proceeds will go toward furnishing pictures and other objects of art to decorate the walls of that school building. Today will be Union School Day and the fund realized will be turned over to that school. Monday will be High School Day.

The exhibit is arranged in the auditorium, or upper room, as it is often spoken of, and in addition to the prints on exhibit there are a number of handsome pictures which have been loaned by the different schools, or which have been given to the High School by former classes or those who are interested in it. In addition there are several objects of statuary which serve to carry out the artistic idea created.

To name all the pictures on exhibition would be quite a task, but some of the most popular ones with the children yesterday were the following: "Paul Revere's Ride," by Page; "Sherman's Ride to the Sea" Darley; "Statue of Abraham Lincoln," St. Gaudens; "Sir Galahad," Watts; "Mona Lisa," Vinci; "Sunflowers," Kaulbach; "The Horse Fair," Bonheur, and a number of other more or less well known works of art. Probably the most widely known print in the exhibit is that of Emile Renouf's painting, "The Helping Hand," which almost everyone recognized the moment they saw it.

The pictures belonging to the High School and loaned by the other schools for the occasion are also very pretty and attracted their share of attention. Numbered among them are "The Age of Innocence," by Reynolds, loaned by the Union School; "Strawberry Girl," Reynolds, loaned by the Hemenway School; "Laughing Cavalier," Frantz Hals, presented by High School class of 1910; engraving of Stratford-on-the-Avon, presented by the High School class of 1906, and four large Roman views, one each of the Forum and the Arch of Constantine and two of the Coliseum, which were bought in Rome by Miss Amy Bradley, principal of the school when it was known as Tileston High School a few years after the war between the States. There are a number of portraits of famous men which were presented to Miss Bradley by Hope, Miflin Company.

On the platform of the auditorium are several pieces of statuary which have been presented to the school by different classes, including a bust of William Shakespeare, presented by the class of 1907, a bust of Robert E. Lee, presented by the class of 1911, a statue of Hebe, presented by the class of 1902; section of the frieze on the Parthenon, presented by the class of 1909, and a copy of the "Victory of Samothrace," the original statue of which was found on the island of Samothrace and the sculptor of which is unknown.

One lady who called during the day and who is a friend of the Hemenway School, has made the offer to present to that school any picture which they may select from the exhibit.

Miss Bertha Wiggs was in charge of the exhibit yesterday and was assisted in showing the visitors around by Misses Gladys Herring, Janette Buck, John Wells, Alice Sawyer, Celeste McEachern and Helene Weill.

Mr. John J. Blair, superintendent of city schools, and those who are associated with him in the movement to provide works of art for the decoration of the different school rooms, feel very much gratified over the success of the first day of the exhibit, and they expect that a good sum will be realized during the days on which it is open.

More Bouquets for Mr. Moench

Reproducing a local mention in The Star about Dr. Karl R. Moench, who has recently located in Wilmington and has classes in language, the Wilson Times of Tuesday contained the following, which will be of interest to many friends Dr. Moench has made since his arrival here only about two weeks ago: "We are deeply gratified that our friend, Dr. Karl R. Moench, is receiving a warm welcome at the hands of Wilmington people. Dr. Moench is a wonderful man, with a wonderful mind. He is a master of language, has a big heart and wins his way easily into the affections of the people."

Very Daring Robbery.

Some robber or burglar entered the room of Messrs. M. W. Turner and Chas. U. Hill, at the residence of Dr. T. B. Kingsbury, No. 22 South Fifth street, late Wednesday night or Thursday morning and secured a watch and the sum of $13.50 from the pockets of the first named gentleman, while a pocket knife and other articles were taken from Mr. Hill's clothes. The robbery was of a daring nature, as both of the young men were asleep in the room at the time. The police have no clue to the person or persons who committed the crime.

Here Preparing Papers.

George R. Ward, Esq., of Wallace, spent yesterday in the city. Mr. Ward is attorney for the Duplin Rural Building & Loan Association, which will soon begin business at Wallace, and is now drawing the papers for the enterprise. Mr. W. B. Brice, one of the promoters, stated yesterday that practically all of the 300 shares of stock allotted to Wilmington had been subscribed.

NEW SANITARY ORDINANCE

City Council Agreed Upon Measure Yesterday Afternoon—Effective November 7th—City Willl Do the Work

Supplanting but not differing in any essential particular from the old sanitary ordinance, the compulsory feature of which was suspended for a few months that the health department might demonstrate the efficiency of a new sanitary device, an entirely new law, effective December 1st, 1911, was unanimously adopted by the City Council yesterday afternoon in special session devoted exclusively to the consideration of this matter.

This means that the sanitary device will have to be continued to be used and that the city will continue to do the sanitary work as it has done during the demonstration period. Consideration of the sanitary law had been set for a special order yesterday afternoon and there was no one present to protest against the ordinance that was adopaed. Woodus Kellum, Esq., representing a large number of persons who will be affected by the law, was present and probably expected to have something to say on the matter had Council proposed to adopt the ordinance introduced some days ago. The health department recommended that several sections of the ordinance introduced last week be stricken out and that several other sections be combined, in effect. Mr. Kellum said that he had not had an opportunity to examine the new document and, therefore, could not say whether the ordinance was good or bad. He remarked, however, that he thought the situation complained of would be relieved if the city would put in a sewerage system, or require the Wilmington Sewerage Company to extend its line wherever water mains are run. The Council gave Mr. Kellum assurance that if the city does not purchase within the next few weeks the existing sewerage system and begin preparations for enlarging it, that the Wilmington Sewerage Company will be required to extend its service.

The ordinance that was adopted and which is effective December 7th is as follows:

"An ordinance Requiring the use of a Sanitary Privy Under Municipal Supervision:

"Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Wilmington:

"Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to own, maintain, or rent any privy in the City of Wilmington, unless the same shall be so constructed as to prevent the access of flies to the excrement deposited therein, and to protect the soil from contamination, and after the privy shall have been so found to be so constructed as to permit the proper and easy placing and removal of a receptacle 16 inches in height and 15 inches in diameter, which receptacle will be furnished if requested, by the City of Wilmington at cost, and after the privy shall have been found to be so located as to be accessible to the city scavenger.

"Section 2. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of health to cause all privies in the City of Wilmington to be inspected at least once every ten days, and a permit for the use of the same shall be given by the superintendent of health to the person, firm, or corporation using or maintaining said privy; and, provided, the said privy or privies is kept or maintained in a satisfactory sanitary condition; and, provided, further, that if the same is not kept or maintained in a satisfactory sanitary condition, then the superintendent of health shall cause the said permit to be revoked, unless the said privy or privies shall be put in a satisfactory sanitary condition within a reasonable time after notice is given to said person, firm or corporation keeping or maintaining said privy or privies.

"Section 3. It shall be the duty of the health department of the city of Wilmington to provide the means and supervise the removal of excrement from the aforesaid privies, as often as it may be deemed necessary.

"Section 4. The city scavenger shall on removing a receptacle from a privy replace it immediately by a similar receptacle that has been thoroughly cleaned and disinfected according to the directions of the health office.

"Section 5. A charge of 20 cents for each can or 35 cents for two cans in same closet shall be paid as herein provided for by the owner or tenant in possession of the property, and the amount so collected shall be used to defray the expenses of disinfection of such privies, and all scavengering therein done, where done by the health department of the city.

"Section 6. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subject to a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50.

"Section 7. The provisions of this ordinance shall be in force and effect on and after December 7th, 1911,

"Section 8. All ordinances in conflict with the terms heretofore are hereby repealed."

As was probably observed by the reader the ordinance permits a person to use his present out house, or build any kind he wants to, just so he meets three conditions, as follows: So as to keep out flies, permits of no contamination of soil and is equipped with a proper receptacle for easy and economical removal.

It is quite probable that a great many who live in a territory now served by the sewerage company will install sewerage right away and thus avoid the cost of the sanitary arrangement, which is provided merely as a make-shift until sewerage can be extended to practically every section of the city.

The meeting lasted for more than an hour and was presided over by Mayor Smith. All members were present and in attendance also were City Attorney Herbert McClammy, Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Creditors Take Action Against Rowland Mercantile Firm

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States District Court here yesterday against the People's Hardware & Furniture Company; of Rowland, N. C., with a branch house a Red Springs, N. C., which firm was placed in the hands of a receiver in the State court on October 24th last. Mr. H. K. McCormick is president of the company and Mr. Arch Baker is secretary. Mr. J. A. McCormick, of Rowland, is receiver by appointment of the State court and is now in charge of the business.

The creditors are represented by J. Plumer Wiggins, a prominent attorney of Maxton, who was here yesterday to file the petition, which shows the creditors and amount of the claim of each as follows: B. T. Withers, of Charlotte, $85.59; H. P. Chandless Sons & Co., Baltimore, $232.02; John T. Lewis and Brothers Co., of Philadelphia, $241.27; Griffith & Turner Co., of Baltimore, $143.50. There are said to be a number of other creditors and among the number are several Wilmington firms. The receiver was appointed upon application of N. Jacobi Hardware Company, of this city.

The amount of assets and liabilities of the company is not set forth in the petition. It is said that the firm did a very large business both at Rowland and at Red Springs.

The petitioners ask that the People's Hardware & Furniture Co., be subpoenaed to appear here ten days from time of filing of petition to show cause why it should not be adjudged a bankrupt. Mr. S. P. Collier, clerk of the court, will place the subpoenas in the hands of Deputy Marshal Knox today for service. The company will be allowed five days in which to file answer.

Will Give Show Today

As announced yesterday morning a great show will be given at No. 214 North Fourth street this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon, and the programme will include a vaudeville act, indian and cowboy battle, trained goat act, clowns and drills. The show will be given in a tent used by Nathan Bros. Shows and is put on by Master Marion Keith, son of Mr. B. F. Keith, who is assisted by a number of young friends. The admission will be five cents.

New Orleans, Nov. 16.---Articles were signed today for a twenty-round fight between Joe Mandot, of New Orleans, and Grover Hayes, of Philadelphia, before the Westside Athletic Club, on December 3rd. The winner of this bout, it is said, is to be matched with the winner of the Ad Wolgast Freddie Welch match, which takes place in Los Angeles on Thanksgiving Day.

ENTERTAINED IN HONOR OF MISS HAZEL EINSTEIN

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 16.—Miss Hope Kennedy delightfully entertained a number of her friends at The Caswell Hotel Tuesday evening from 9 to 12 in honor of her guest, Miss Hazel Einstein, a charming and attractive young lady of Wilmington. The guests were met at the dor by Misses Kennedy and Einstein and the ladies ushered to the cloak room by Miss Pauline Bruton. They were then directed to a cozy nook in the spacious hall, where Miss Susie Phillips and Mr. David Dixon gracefully presided at the punch bowl. They then repaired to the parlor and engaged on the exciting contest of progressive pinocle in which Mr. Leonard Oettinger proved to be the most successful. Mr. Jeff Whitaker in his jovial manner presented the prize—a beautiful box of stationery—to Mr. Oettinger, who in turn presented it to the guest of honor. About 11:30 the guests were invited to the dining hall, where delightful refreshments were served. The guests then departed, each declaring Miss Kennedy a most charming hostess.

WILMINGTON MAN WINS BRIDE IN CAPITAL CITY

The following from yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer will be read with much interest by many friends of the groom in this city:

"The following announcements have been received in this city:

Mr. and Mrs. James Maglenn announce the marriage of their daughter
Rose Elizabeth
to
Mr. Austin McCormick
on Wednesday evening, November the fifteenth
nineteen hundred and eleven
Raleigh, North Carolina
At Home
316 North Front Street
Wilmington, N. C.

"The grom is a popular young business man of Wilmington, while the bride is a well-known young lady of Raleigh and has many friends here and elsewhere, being a daughter of Capt and Mrs. James Maglenn, of Raleigh.

"The wedding ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, on Halifax street, by Rev. Father Griffin, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart.

"The bride and groom left for Wilmington, where they will reside."

The groom is well-known and popular in this city, where he is manager for the Southern Exchange Company, of Maxton, N. C., and New York, and has a host of friends throughout the State.

CLAIMS RICHMOND BRIDE IN PRETTY CEREMONY.

Yesterday's Richmond Times-Dispatch has the following which will be read with interest by many friends here:

"The marriage of Miss Alma Lee Saunders, daughter of Mrs. Fannie Madison Saunders, and William Isaac Baxter, of Wilmington, N. C., was celebrated yesterday afternoon at half past 4 o'clock in Monumental Church. The ceremony was performed by Dr. James W. Morris, rector of the church, and decorations were in palms, ferns and white chrysanthemums, with lighted candles and white flowers on the altar. Benjamin Potter played the "Wedding March" and the bridal party was preceded to the altar by the vested choir, of which the bride is a member, singing Mendelssohn's "Bridal Chorus.'

"The bride entered the church with her brother, Dr. Allen J. Black, of Hollins, who gave her away. She wore a handsome gown of gray chiffon cloth made over gray messaline and trimmed in cut steel and Maltese lace. Her hat was gray velvet, the same shade of her gown, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. Mrs. Allen Jackson Black, of Hollins, was dame of honor, and Meares Harriss, of Wilmington, N. C., was the groom's best man. Mrs. Black was gowned in white chiffon cloth, embroidered in pearls and made over pale pink messaline. She ware a picture hat of black velvet, and carried an armful of pink roses.

"The ushers were Benjamin Bell, of Wilmington; M. M. Newborne, of Charleston, S. C.; W. A. Gray, of Wilmington; J. B. Moore, Lee Lorraine and Robert Pulliam, of this city.

"Mr. and Mrs. Baxter left immediately after the ceremony for an extended trip North, and on their return December 1st, will make their home at 515 Market street, Wilmington, N. C.

"The choir of Monumental Church gave a linen shower in honor of the bride on Thursday evening of last week."

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—The many friends of Mr. A. B. Corinth, of Rocky Mount, are delighted to have him in the city for a brief visit.

—Among yesterday's arrivals at The Orton were H. L. Leonard, Kelly's; E. B. Haywood, Raleigh; Chas. S. Wallace, Morehead City; H. L. Leard and H. I. Hargis, Raleigh; S. Mitchell, New Berlin; L. H. Platt, Asheville; Clarence Butler, Raleigh; J. W. Coppedge and B. McCullen, Greensboro.

—Among the arrivals at The Southern yesterday were: Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Dickinson, Kerr; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Atkins, Norfolk, Va.; H. V. Lyon and J. J. Pridgen, Kelley; Charles Frazer, Lynchburg, Va.; B. H. Moore, Newbern; C. L. Burton, Evergreen; W. F. Burton, Whiteville.

HARMONY CONCERT COMPANY.

Gave Charming Concert at Boys' Brigade Armory Last Night.

Harmony Concert Company, composed of a quartette of finished artists, gave a thoroughly delightful entertainment at the Boys' Brigade armory last night as the second number of the Brigade Lyceum Course. The armory was crowded and the frequent and prolonged applause indicated that the audience appreciated to the fullest the various numbers on the programme. Each member of the company is an artist and this was quickly recognized by those composing the audience. Mr. S. Arthur McIntire and Mrs. Pearl Collins McIntire, solists, rendered several solos and duets, which were enthusiastically received. Mr. McIntire has a splendid tenor voice and his numbers were rendered most pleasingly. Mrs. McIntire has a pure soprano voice of remarkable range. The other two members of the company are Miss Cogswell, violinist, and Miss Leigh, pianist and reader. Miss Cogswell gave several violin solos that pleased greatly and like the other members of the company she was forced to respond to several encores. Miss Leigh is one of the most charming readers that has ever appeared before a Wilmington audience and was required to respond to five encores. Her manner is natural and winsome and she won instant favor with the audience. In giving her last encore Miss Leigh paid a high tribute to North Carolina and recited the well known toast to the State. All together it was one of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given at the armory. The third number of the course is Karl Jansen, the Swedish humorist and entertainer, who comes on December 21st.

HOSPITAL IN OCTOBER.

Regular Monthly Report Sumbitted to Board of Managers.

The report of the superintendent of the James Walker Memorial Hospital for the month of October has been submitted to the Board of Managers. It shows that on September 30th there were remaining in the institution 48 patients, and 127 were admitted during October, making a total of 175. There were 114 patients discharged during the month and eight died, a total of 122. Charity patients received 1,060 days' treatment and pay patients 529, a total of 1,589. There were 31 operations, 362 dressings and 92 ambulance calls. In the out-patient department 154 new cases were treated and 41 old cases were treated, a total of 195. There were 78 dressings on new cases and 42 on old cases, making a total of 120.

..Theatrical..

The announcement for the Academy of Music for all next week is the Starkey Players, an organization composed of 12 people well known to lovers of the popular price drama. The company is especially known for its selection of plays and also for its fine productions, as every little detail is carefully looked after. The opening play, for Monday night, will be the new comedy drama, "Under Arizona Skies," and a complete scenic presentation will be made. It is a play of swift, vigorous action, that keeps the audience aroused every minute of the time, and yet possesses plenty of wholesome comedy. Ladies will be admitted free Monday night under the usual conditions, save that the sale will be limited to 200 tickets. Seats will go on sale tomorrow at Plummer's.

At The Bijou.

A photoplay of the hour, one that will deal with lively and stirring human nature of today, in the form of the political and graft questions, will head today's big and wonderful bill at the Bijou, and amusement lovers cannot afford to miss seeing it. It is proclaimed Edison's greatest creation and it throbs with interest and tells in gripping manner a powerful story of the game of politics. It is called "The Reform Candidate." It deals with a hot fight against machine politics, sensational newspaper tirades, bribery, railway franchises and other things of like type, while the slick politician the ward heeler and the lobbyist are all to the front. It is a great film. This one photoplay alone would be sufficient to make up a big and rare show, but it will merely be one of the stars of today's Bijou bill. There will be plenty of other swell films, including some of the funniest ever manufactured, and the music will be of really entrancing nature. Mr. Frank Banks, Wilmington's favorite, has a big new ballad, of course.

At the Grand Theatre.

The leading feature for today at The Grand will be Mr. Morgan, who will sing the illustrated song, "I Want You Dear." The star picture for today will be a Vitagraph, "When a Man's Married, His Troubles Begin." This is a bright comedy that does not give offense and ought to be a big hit. There will also be a Pathe, "Love's Renunciation," and still another, an Essanay, "The Girl Back East," a thrilling Western drama with Mr. G. M. Anderson in the title role. The temperatures at The Grand is regulated by the weather on the outside and the place is always cool and pleasant.

DEATH OF MRS. J. W. DULS.

Passed Away Yesterday Morning at Family Residence.

Many friends of Mr. J. W. Duls, one of the leading German citizens of Wilmington, will deeply regret to learn of the death of his estimable wife, Mrs. Katherine Margaretha Duls, which occurred yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the family residence, corner Second and Nun streets.

Mrs. Duls was born in Gnarrenburg, Province Hanover, Germany, February 1st, 1863, and was therefore 48 years, nine months and 15 days of age. She was a most excellent woman, a true wife and a loving mother, a regular attendant of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, of which she was a devoted member. Her husband, children and relatives have the deepest sympathy of many friends in the great loss that they have sustained.

The deceased is survived by her husband, two sons, Mr. W. H. Duls, post graduate law student at Harvard University; Mr. Ferdinand Duls, of this city, and Miss Margaretha Duls, also of Wilmington, as well as her mother and two sisters living in Germany and two brothers, Mr. J. G. L. Gieschen and Mr. Henry Gieschen, of Wilmington. The sorrowing husband and all the children were at the bedside when the end came.

On November 3rd Mr. and Mrs. Duls celebrated their silver wedding anniversary, at which time Mrs. Duls was in feeble health. A few days later she was stricken with paralysis, and although attended with the best medical aid and skilled trained nurses, she gradually failed as other complications set in and her death yesterday did not come unexpected.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence, thence to St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

NEGRO PREACHER IN BAD

Blind Parson Charged With Disorderly Conduct---Other Cases

J. W. Bass, a blind negro preacher, and his daughter, Roberta Bass, were the star mourners on the Recorder's court bench yesterday, being charged with disorderly conduct. It was alleged that Bass, as well as his daughter, had used vile, and profane language on or near a public street, and that the preacher, especially, was loud and boisterous in his conduct. The daughter was fined $1... and costs and the case against the exhorter was left open until this morning. The Recorder, however, expressed regret that the man's affliction was such as to prevent him from serving a sentence on the county roads. On the stand Bass stated he used only Biblical terms on the occasion on which he is alleged to have been disorderly.

Ed. Austin, colored, for the larceny of some rugs from the Wilmington Furniture Company, received a sentence of six months on the county roads and the dose was doubled by another six months for non-support of his wife.

Herbert Bannerman, colored, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon another negro, was declared not guilty. A case against Mr. E. M. Cox, charging him with false pretense, was continued until today for the defendant.

Jesse Blount in Jail.

Deputy Sheriff Kelly yesterday arrested Jesse Blount, colored, who is charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon Mr. Walter Sneeden, a white man, who resides on the sound. Justice Harriss found probable cause and in default of bond in the sum of $100 Blount went to jail to await trial before the Recorder today. The alleged cutting is said to have occurred some time ago and Blount left here, but on the advice of certain white friends came back to give himself up.

Death of Mr. W. T. Hall.

News was received in the city yesterday of the death of Mr. W. T. Hall, a well-known planter of Sloop Point, Pender county, which occurred early in the morning. The deceased was 66 years of age and is survived by two sons, Mr. L. T. Hall and Mrs. W. S. Hall, two daughters, Misses Minnie and Mary Hall, and one brother, Mr. E. J. Hall, all of Sloop Point. The funeral will be held this morning and the interment will be made in the family burying ground near Edgecombe, Pender county.

Negro Druggist Arrested.

Prince S. LeBoo, a colored druggist who conduct a store at Sixth and Campbell streets, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Melvin Horne on a warrant charging him with selling laudanum without a prescription. He was taken before Justice Harriss, who fixed his bond at $250. This the man furnished. The preliminary hearing will be held before Justice Harriss next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. LeBoo has employed Marsden Bellamy, Esq., to represent him.

Another Outcome of Lehr Case.

Ed Guion, colored, who conducts a barber shop on Market street, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Horne on a warrant charging him with receiving stolen goods, knowing them to have been stolen. He furnished $100 bond for his appearance before Justice Harriss at the preliminary hearing, the date of which has not yet been set. Guion's arrest is another outcome of the Barney Lehr larceny case, which has already involved three pawnshop men on the same charge.

DIED

DULS---At the family residence, corner Nun and Second streets, MRS. KATHERINE MARGARETHA DULS, in the 49th year of her age.

Funeral this (Friday) afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, thence to St. Paul's Lutheran church; interment in Oakdale cemetery. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

MAKING FINE PROGRESS.

Seaboard Air Line Improvements Are Going Ahead Rapidly.

Satisfactory progress is being made on the additional improvements the Seaboard Air Line is making on its terminal facilities in this city, which were announced in The Star some weeks ago. As stated at that time, grading is going on apace in the northeast section of the city in the vicinity of the North Carolina Cotton Seed Oil Company, where the Seaboard will provide additional trackage, giving storage for 150 freight cars in excess of present accommodations. Three additional tracks are to be laid in the city and two at Navassa. The Seaboard will also install a large coal chute at a point easy of access by the new tracks, the contract for which is held by the Fairbanks Company.

The Christian Construction Company, of Durham, has been awarded the contract for putting in the additional tracks. The improvements will cost a considerable sum; this, too, in addition to the several hundred thousand dollars already expended by the company in improving its terminal facilities here.

DEPUTY SHERIFF KILLS MAN.

Charged With Murder in South Carolina.

Asheville, N. C., November 16.—In a pitched battle late today on the outskirts of Brevard, Transylvania county, Deputy Sheriff Branch Paxton shot and instantly killed Leroy Elrod and badly wounded his father, Thomas Elrod, whom he was trying to arrest.

The Transylvania officers early today had been advised to look out for the two Elrods, who are wanted in Pickens county, South Carolina, for alleged murder. The fugitives were located by Paxton this afternoon. The deputy's demand for surrender was met with a combined rush by the Elrods, Paxton being knocked down. As he fell, he drew his revolver and fired two shots, the first bullet killing the younger man, while the second seriously wounded the father. The latter, who admits having killed a man in South Carolina, is 67 years old, while the son was only 19.

Patriotism

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.

COTTON MARKET CLOSE STEADY

Trading Yesterday Comparatively Quiet—Close Very Steady Eight Points Higher to Four Points Lower

New York, November 16.—The action of today's cotton market suggested that the changes established in spot differences by the revision committee of the New York Cotton Exchange late yesterday had been pretty well discounted, but while trading was comparatively quiet, and fluctuations more or less irregular. The undertone was generally steady and the close was very steady, net eight points higher to four points lower.

The market opened steady at a decline of 4 to 7 points in response to rather lower cables than expected and liquidation by earlier week buyers who seemed to find that the revision had been less drastic than they had anticipated. Buying of the near months by spot people checked the decline after active positions had shown a net loss of about 6@10 points and the market later in the morning firmed up on rumors of a bullish National Ginners report and covering of shorts, with the active months at one time showing a net advance of about 1 to 4 points. Prices worked a few points off from the best after midday, under Wall Street selling, but the market met good support, and last prices were within a point or two of the top on active positions.

Early rumors that the National Ginners' report would be under 11,500,000 bales, ginned to November 14th, seemed to cause some covering, but wires from Memphis reporting that the terms showed 11,478,000 appeared to exert little influence during the later trading, as it was said that the ginning would have been heavier had it not been for unfavorable weather during the period. Generally speaking, the action of the revision committee resulting in increased penalties on low grades, but increased premiums on high grades appeared to be considered satisfactory and local spot people expressed the opinion that the revision should have no immediate influence on the market. December was relatively easy, during the day, suggesting the possibility of increased shipments from the South for delivery on contract and the advance here around midday appeared to be checked by increased Southern offerings. Aside from the revision and ginning figures there seemed to be little in the news to attract attention.

Receipts today, 56,581 bales, against 66,818 last week, and 60,087 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 8,185 bales, against 19,257 last year, and at Houston, 19,483 bales, against 12,053 last year.

Spot closed unchanged. Middling uplands, 9.50; middling gulf, 9.75; sales, 601 bales.

Futures closed very steady.

STRENGTH IN STOCK MARKET

Was Shown Yesterday After Several Days' Declining Prices—Trading Was Not Heavy and Changes Not Large.

New York, Nov. 16.—Renewed strength was exhibited by the stock market today, after several days declining prices. Trading was not heavy and changes were not large, but the weakness of the list disappeared. Operations centered largely about Union Pacific, which was brought into prominence by the issuance of its annual report. In view of conditions under which the railroads of the country have operated during the past year, the report was regarded in the street as distinctly favorable. Union Pacific was bought heavily and during part of the day showed a gain of more than two points. Its strength was a tonic for the market, and, after an early period of weakness, the whole list rose in response to more active buying.

Lehigh Valley, which received a check in its advance yesterday, was weak at the opening, but rose in response to a renewal of speculative operations. It was supported consistently and at the close that stock and Union Pacific were the strongest of the active speculative issues.

Among the less active stocks the strength of the Southern group was most pronounced. L. and N. rose five points and A. C. L. three.

The largest amount of gold reserved for export in a single day within many months was the total of $5,250,000, engaged for shipment to Canada in payment for Canadian bonds in connection with financing undertaken by American interests.

Refusal of the United States Circuit Court to permit independent tobacco interests to intervene in the American Tobacco reorganization proceedings, and at the attitude of the Attorney General toward the plan as approved by the court was referred to as influences which sustained the strength of the stock market.

The expressed determination of the opponents of the plan to take the matter before the highest tribunal, however, delayed the final approval which Wall street hopes will point out the method of disintegration combines which are offensive to the law.

Bonds were steady, with Seaboard Air Line issues active and strong. Total sales, par value, $3,167,000. United States registered 2s declined ½ on call. Total sales for the day, 630,000 shares.

Saved Many from Death

W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe its the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free, or regular 50c. or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION.

To All to Whom These Presents May Come, Greeting:

Whereas, It appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof, by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that The Auto, Company, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated at No. 114 N. 2nd Street, in the City of Wilmington, County of New Hanover, State of North Carolina (W. G. Elliott being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 21, Revisal of 1905, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:

Now, Therefore, I, J. BRYAN GRIMES, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 23 day of October, 1911, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office, as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal, at Raleigh, this 23 day of October, A. D. 1911.

which may change the whole complexion of events. Chang has placed many guns on the wall of the city to check the advance of the revolutionaries from the north.

Revolutionaries Gain.

Amoy, China, November 16.—Practically the entire southern half of Fo Kien province has gone over to the revolutionists. There are disorders in the interior. At Chang Chow rival factions are fighting for control of the local government.

Foo Chow reports that provisional government there is trying to restore order; people who had fled are returning to the city and the shops are being opened.

Hing Hwa, a coast city about 50 miles south of Foo Chow, has accepted the new government quietly, and many of the old officials remain at their posts.

In this city the radical element is organizing the Republican government. The moderates who wished to declare Amoy independent without cause are not being consulted.

BEET SUGAR MANUFACTURERS.

Will Combat Propoganda In Interest of "Free Sugar."

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Beet sugar manufacturers in session here today formulated plans to combat the propoganda in the interest of "free sugar," alleged to be carried on by the cane sugar refiners and the New York importing interests.

The beet sugar men say they produce annually 600,000 tons of sugar and draw raw material from sixteen States, extending from Ohio to California, and pay the American farmer $30,000,000 annually therefor. They contend that by putting raw sugar on the free list the domestic industry would be destroyed, and all competition thereby eliminated, and that thereafter the importers and refiners would have a complete monopoly.

C. C. Hamlin, of Colorado, chairman, characterized the publicity attributed to the refiners as a "campaign of misrepresentation inaugurated for the purpose of prejudicing the minds of the American people."

"The animus of these attacks is apparent," he says. "Beet sugar is the only competitor the refiners have as from it they can exact no toll and every pound of beet sugar produced in the United States means one less for them to refine.

With this industry destroyed their only competitor would be eliminated a few men in New York would fix the price to be paid to the producers of raw sugar on the one hand and that to be charged the consumer of refined on the other.

"The production of beet sugar during the year has by reason of competition between beet sugar manufacturers resulted in beet sugar selling at four and one-half to five and one-half cents a pound when the New York refiners were quoting a price of seven and one-half cents per pound. When the beet crop came on the market the price began to decline and already the refiners have been compelled to reduce their price over a cent and a quarter a pound."

The statement declares that the domestic beet sugar production "coming on to the market as it did when the situation was not acute, saved the day."

DISAPPROVE CHANGE.

Speaker Champ Clark and Senator Reid Make Addresses.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 16.—Speaker Champ Clark tonight digressed from his set speech before the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress to express his disapproval of the proposed changes in the Nation's currency and banking system as outlined by former United States Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, chairman of the National Monetary Commission.

United States Senator James A. Reed also spoke in opposition to the proposed system.

Laying no claim whatever to the character of a financier, Speaker Clark said: "I am utterly opposed to the creation, chartering or authorization of any institute which will deliver in the hands of a few men the powers of life and death, not only over the bankers of this country, but over every business in the land.

"Even financiers of renown differ widely as the poles on the Aldrich bill and hesitatingly James J. Hill and Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury under two Presidents, are openly against it on the ground that the Aldrich plan is essentially a monopoly.

"Now, if such eminent financial physicians as Drs. Aldrich, Vreeland and Laughlin and Drs. Hill and Shaw disagree so radically on this subject, would we not be acting the part of wise and patriotic men to wait long enough at least to hear both sides in this important and far-reaching matter before making up our minds?"

PRINTING MORE MONEY.

Increased Demand for Bills of Small Denominations.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Rush orders have been given the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. It will put on an extra force and add an hour to the working day in order to fill a pressing demand on the Treasury for notes of small denomination.

The demand is for $1, $2 and $5 notes. Increase in population and in business, the demand for sanitary notes, the approach of the holidays and other reasons are given for the shortage of small notes in the country.

Because of the situation Congress will be asked for a deficiency appropriation for the bureau and to appropriate for 10,000,000 additional "sheets" of notes for the current fiscal year. Even this may not fill the gap.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

Considerable Damage is Done to German Towns.

Berlin, November 16.—Sharp earthquake shocks occurred tonight at Munich, Strassburg, Mayence, Frankfort and Stuttgart. The shocks were felt quite severely at Stuttgart and Frankfort. The disturbance took place about half past ten o'clock and at Frankfort, where several houses were badly shaken, half clad people rushed into the streets. Big cracks appeared in the walls of several buildings. At Stuttgart household furniture was overturned and pictures fell from the walls.

At Constance, in the grand duchy of Baden, many buildings, including the postoffice, were badly damaged. The railway viaduct near Lautlingen, fell in. There was panice in a theatre at Heidelberg.

Mulhausen, Alsace, Lorrain, Nov. 6.—Two earth shocks of unusual violence passed from West to East tonight. People fled to the open in terror. A huge stone fell from the steeple of St. Stephen's church. Walls in the upper stories of many dwellings were badly cracked. A performance in the theatre was suspended, the audience terrified, fleeing to the streets which were littered with fallen bricks and tiles.

THE STANLEY ASSAULT

Son of Elder Simmons Gives Himself Up—Whiteville News

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 16.—S. W. Simmons, who, it is alleged, is implicated with his father, A. D. M. Simmons, in the attack and robbery of P. Stanley, at Green Swamp, last Friday, and who has been at large since, came in this morning and surrendered to Sheriff Richardson. He says that he has not been hiding out but has been at the home of his relatives at Crusoe. He also stated that he acted in self-defense. The elder Simmons it is recalled made this same plea when arrested. P Stanley is reported as to be getting along nicely.

The next term of Columbus court which convenes on the 27th will be a busy one, there being a number of sensational cases to be tried. Up to a week ago there was only four prisoners in jail, two of them being the white man and woman awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court. There is now almost a full jail.

Mrs. R. C. Carson and Miss Maud Richardson spent yesterday in Wilmington.

GEORGIA WITHOUT GOVERNOR.

Smith Resigns to Become Senator and Slaton is Sworn In.

Atlanta, Nov. 16.—For a period of 14 hours ending at 9 o'clock today, the State of Georgia was without a chief executive. United States Senator-elect Hoke Smith formally tendered his resignation as governor at 7 o'clock yesterday evening and his successor, Gov. Pro Tem. John M. Slaton, president of the State Senate, did not take the oath of office until 9 o'clock today. The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Fish, of the State Supreme Court. No ceremony marked either the resignation of ex-Governor Smith or the installation in office of Governor Slaton.

Probably the first important action taken by the new executive will be the issuing of a call for the election of a permanent successor to ex-Governor Smith. The State primary has been set for December 7th, and it is thought that the general election will be called in January, as Governor Slaton is allowed 60 days in which to call it.

INDUSTRIAL DEPRESSION.

National Founders' Association Says It is Unwarranted—Causes.

New York, Nov. 16.—Declaring that industrial depression extending over a period of years after the panic of 1907 is unwarranted and must be laid to causes which should and must be removed, the National Founders' Association at its annual meeting here today adopted resolutions calling upon the American people to "awaken to the real situation and regain confidence in themselves."

The resolutions declare that the country should "discountenance public expressions and legislative action designed to discourage legitimate enterprise and commercial and industrial development," and denounce "political tinkers who destroy confidence and undermine the economic stability of a great nation."

RED CROSS STAMP BOOTHS

Sale Will Be Allowed This Year in Postoffice Buildings

Washington, Nov. 16.—Red Cross Christmas stamps will be placed on sale in all cities about December 1st, according to the plans announced by Secretary Charles L. Magee, of the American Red Cross Society.

For the first time sale of the stamps will be permitted this year in all postoffices. Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh sent a bulletin order today to custodians of all postoffice buildings to permit installation of booths.

Postmaster General Hitchcock also is aiding the stamp sales by authorizing their use on the backs of all letters and other mail matter. Only use of the stamps on the front of letters is prohibited.

New York, Nov. 16.—Announcement was made here today that "Bob" Burman, holder of several world's records in automobile racing, had withdrawn from the grand prize, and Vanderbilt cup races at Savannah. Burman says he withdrew from the grand prize race at the request of the firm manufacturing the car he would have used, the firm being desirous of obtaining release from its contract. As he did not care to go to Savannah to compete in only one race, he asked and was granted a release by the owner of the car he was to have driven in the Vanderbilt cup contest.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 16.—When Aviator Fowler attempted to resume his coast-to-coast flight here today, his machine collided with the branches of a tree. The aviator was not hurt but the machine was damaged. Fowler postponed his flight for repairs.

London, November 16.—Both Vienna and Constantinople report that Italy has consented to postpone her naval operations in Turkish waters. This is the result, according to dispatches, of protests made by the powers.

JURY BOX FILLED.

For Second Time in McNamara Murder Trial.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 16.—The jury box in the McNamara murder trial was filled with jurors and accepted late this morning for the second time. Peremptory challenges by the State and defense will be exercisesd at the opening of court tomorrow.

Jacob Lansing, an orchardist, is the 12th man accepted. His fellows in the box are Robert Bain, carpenter; Byron Lisk, mill owner; F. D. Green, orchardist—all sworn jurors—Brewster C. Kenyon, capitalist; Clark McLain, banker; J. B. Sexton, retired farmer; A. Gribling, retired walnut grower; Willet Brunner, railroad engineer; C. A. Heath, farmer; William J. Andre, carpenter; T. H. Elliott, gardener.

The big gray scrap book, nicknamed the "dooms day book," in which are pasted reports to the defense on talesmen, quotes Lansing, the first juror expected to be relieved tomorrow, as having said that James B. McNamara was guilty and ought to be hanged. Lansing denied that he said this, but Attorney LeCompte Davis sought to obtain an admission that Lansing's opinions ran along this line.

William J. Andre is counted as a good prospect for one of the challenges allotted to the defense, as is T. H. Elliott, whose examination developed little concerning his opinions.

Expectations tonight were that the State would excuse A. Grimblin against whom District Attorney Fredericks would challenge on the ground that he would not be willing to convict on circumstantial evidence where the death penalty was involved. Wilbett Brunner may be challenged as he belongs to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

LADY PHYSICIAN SUICIDES.

Uses Chloroform—Financial Troubles Were the Cause.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 16.—Ethel Kirk, aged 35, a well known woman physician, was found dead in her apartments in the Geyer building located uptown late today from the effects of chloroform. The doctor had committed suicide by placing cotton, saturated with the drug, in her mouth and nostrils. Financial troubles were the cause.

Several days ago Dr. Kirk visited a trust company and made her will. Wednesday, in conversation with the woman janitor of her apartment, she said: "I am tired of this. I can collect little from my patients. I wish I could die. I would like to lie down and never wake up."

Mrs. Dippold, the janitress, was called to the telephone of another physician in the building today. An officer of the trust company where Dr. Kirk made her will informed the janitress that he had received two strange letters from the physician. He said he was unable to get a response to the phone calls and advised an immediate investigation. Summoning Dr. H. E. Krumpe. Mrs. Dippold unlocked Dr. Kirk's office. They found the woman lying on a lounge dead.

TWELFTH PARLIAMENT

Brilliant Assemblage Greets Governor-General of the Dominion

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 16.—The Senate chamber presented a brilliant spectacle today when the Duke of Connaught, Gover-General of the Dominion, formally opened the first session of the twelfth parliament of Canada. The booming of the royal salute greeting the Duke when he arrived at Parliament Hill and when he entered the Senate chamber, one of the most brilliant assemblages ever gathered for a similar function rose to greet him.

The Duchess of Connaught occupied a place beside the Duke. This is the first time a woman has sat on the throne of Canada since the regime of the Marquis of Lorne, and Princess Louise, the privilege being reserved for princesses.

A speech from the throne was delivered by the Duke in both English and French. The speech made no reference to reciprocity or the Canadian navy.

STABBED WITH KNIFE.

Accident in Vaudeville Act Causes Several to Faint.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 16.—During a scene between two supposed jealous lovers in a vaudeville act, entitled "Paris by Night" at the Colonial Theatre tonight, Mme. Anna Kremsa was stabbed in the left breast by Mme. Yamakura. The weapon was a table knife.

A rubber dagger is generally used in the scene, but tonight it could not be found and a table knife had to be used. The injured woman fell on the stage and at the sight of blood many women in the audience became hysterical and several fainted.

The stabbing was accidental, both women being the best of friends and room together. Physicians say the injured woman will recover.

BEGIN IT TODAY

That good old saying, "A stitch in time saves nine," is proved over and over in our daily life.

For example, when you begin to feel out of sorts, don't want to eat, and don't seem as strong as usual, if you would begin right away to use Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil, you could easily put yourself in good trim again with one bottle, or less. But when you wait and grow worse all the time, it is bound to take more.

We just got a letter from Mrs. Mary Glynn, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., who says: "When my health became run-down last March I took prompt action to improve it and was told that Vinol was the best thing to build me up. Using one bottle of Vinol has made me well and strong again."

Don't put it off another day. If you feel the need of more strength and better blood, or if one of your family is weak and sickly, Vinol will give renewed strength and energy. If it does not, we will give you back your money. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

EX-PRESIDENT CASTRO.

Venezuelan Government Enraged Because Colombia Refuses to Arrest

Willemstadt, Curacoa, Nov. 16.—Authoritative advices from Caracas show that a serious state of unrest prevails in Venezuela. The Venezuelan government is enraged at Colombia because that Republic declines to place ex-President Castro under arrest and deliver him to the Venezuelan authorities. Castro is said to be on his estate at Cucuta, Colombia, on the Venezuelan frontier.

Venezuela believes Colombia sympathizes with Castro because of his extreme anti-American ideas. President Gomez has 2,000 men near the frontier to fall upon Castro if he invades Venezuela. Ever since the first reports of Castro's return from Europe Venezuela has been taking precautionary measures to prevent his obtaining a foothold in that country.

MEXICAN REVOLUTION.

It is Believed Will be Launched in Next Two Weeks.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 16.—J. R. Hughes, senior captain of the Texas Rangers, in charge of the Rio Grande border patrol, today reported to Governor Colquitt he had evidence that Mexican revolution will be launched within the next two weeks and that some of the plans are being perfected in Texas. Governor Colquitt has ordered a more stringent investigation to determine what steps he shall take. Capt. Hughes believes the plan is to overthrow Madero. State Rangers are patrolling the border from El Paso to Brownsville to protect American interests.

SOUTHERN BUYS CARS.

Additional Equipment Being Purchased by Railroad Company.

Washington, Nov. 16.—President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, announced today that the company had contracted for 1,700 all-steel 50-ton double-drop bottom gondola coal cars, 500 steel underframe 30-ton ventilated box cars, and 250 all-steel 50-ton flat cars.

These additions to the freight equipment of the company are all in addition to the purchase just consummated of seven Mikado engines, 600 all-steel coal cars, and 65 steel underframe box cars for the Virginia & Southwestern Railway Company.

DON'T BE THIN.

No Need of Being Scrawny, Weak and Emaciated.

In these days of physical culture and health foods, one would hardly expect to see any thin, weak, emaciated people, but in spite of all this, nearly every person you meet is thin and scrawny.

Good healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food with thorough assimilation of the fat-giving elements. Nine people out of ten, in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. Weigh yourself before commencing the use of these little tablets, and see how your weight increases.

Samose has valuable flesh-forming and tissue building properties, and when it is assimilated with the food, it causes the flesh-making elements to be retained and the weight is naturally increased.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., the popular druggists, have sold in the last few weeks a great many packages of Samose, every one with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not give satisfaction and has had but one person ask for the money back.

A Commercial Banking Service.

Since the organization of this Bank it has been the aim, object and purpose of its officials to furnish to the Manufacturers and Merchants of this city the kind of Banking Service which is so necessary to young and to growing concerns. The officers of this institution fully realizing the needs of the depositors, have patiently and consistently worked toward the furnishing of a complete and satisfactory service.

The accounts of new firms coming to our city and of those not now enjoying satisfactory banking relations are invited, and representatives of such companies may feel free to consult with the officers of this bank at all times.
